GIANTS IN WIN OVER YANKS IN BALL OPENER

Carl Hubbell Hurls National League Champions to 6 to 1 Victory as World Series Gets Under Way at New York; Pouring Rain Makes Conditions Worst in History of Classic

Two Home Runs Are Poled Out

Canadian Press
Polo Grounds, New York, Sept. 30.—Big Red Ruffing and the Yankee infield blew up in the rain with a resounding roar in the eighth inning today, giving the Giants and Carl Hubbell an easy 6 to 1 victory in the miserably wet setting of the opening game of Manhattan's world baseball series.

With a heavy rain falling from the third inning on the teams took nearly three hours to struggle through the game. The base paths were deep with mud, while the pitchers were continually forced to call for new balls or have them wiped off.

Hubbell, leading pitcher in the majors this season, was the hero of the Giants' victory. Despite the conditions he struck out eight and contributed two hits to the Giants' attack.

Up until the eighth inning it was a nip and tuck affair. The Yankees moved into the lead in the third inning when George Selkirk lifted a home run into the right field stands. The Giants' evened matters in the fifth when Bartell caught one of Ruffing's pitches on the nose and the ball landed in the left field stands for a homer.

A two-base crash by Mel Ott, a sacrifice and Gus Mancuso's single gave the Giants the lead for the first time in the sixth.

After a smart double play pulled the Giants out of a bad hole in the first of the eighth the Yankees collapsed in the latter half of the frame. Three hits and a pair of errors gave the National League champions four runs and put the game on ice.

GAME TOMORROW

The clubs will meet tomorrow in the second game of the best of seven series, weather conditions permitting.

The Giants collected nine hits and were charged with one error, while the Yankees got seven and had two errors against them.

Close to 45,000 attended today's game.

Grain Burned In Palestine

Martial law, about to be proclaimed and enforced by the British forces, is expected to put an end to such scenes as the above. With Arabs clashing with them at numerous points, Jewish farmers recently were confronted with a new harassment when fields of grain were set on fire. The picture shows colonists beating out fire in a wheat field in the Israel Valley.

Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Who Will Visit Victoria Friday, Says in Vancouver Government Plans Expansion

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Sept. 30.—During the past nine months the federal government has given careful consideration to Canada's coastal defenses, particularly on the Pacific Coast, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, said on his arrival here today.

The Minister will proceed to Victoria late tomorrow. He plans to spend about two weeks on the coast.

Mr. Mackenzie stated the government was considering the establishment of a northern coastal air base in British Columbia, with the possibility of an intermediate base between the Queen Charlotte Islands and Vancouver.

NEW HANGAR

The Minister said $375,000 would be spent on the Jericho Air Station in the immediate future and the contract had been let during the past week for the first of this work.

Tenders would be called in two or three weeks, for construction of three hangars and four additional hangars would eventually be built at the Jericho station, he said.

Thronged the office of the city assessor-collector today to pay 1936 taxes before the first penalty of 1 per cent is applied on their taxes.

The penalty will be applied on Friday and will be followed by extra charges of equivalent size on November 3 and November 17.

On September 3 the penalty will be added by another 3 per cent, making the total extra charge on delinquent taxes 6 per cent.

Wilfully Slain Jury Verdict

Inquiry This Morning Into Death of Mrs. Doris Gravin

Medical evidence that the body of Mrs. Doris Gravin showed signs of bruises inflicted before and after death, and that her death was due to suffocation, was given this morning at the coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Gravin.

The jury returned a verdict that Mrs. Gravin was wilfully slain by a person or persons at present unknown.

No indictment was returned by the jury after Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, said he was prepared to receive one.

The principal evidence this morning was given by Dr. J. H. Moore, who conducted the post-mortem examination, and Dr. E. L. McEwen, physician, who was called when the body was found on Sunday afternoon at the Oak Bay golf links.

Dr. Moore said there were anti-mortem wounds on the body under the scalp into the temple, and there was evidence of hemorrhage under the scalp. There was no skull fracture.

LUNGS CONGESTED

The lungs were congested with blood, indicating death was due to asphyxiation. The cause of death, Dr. Moore said, was asphyxia, or suffocation.

The wounds in the temple region, he said, were anti-mortem, while the mark about the neck was a post-mortem mark.

Dr. McEwen told the jury this mark appeared to have been caused by a cord. In reply to a jurymen he said the mark could have been caused by a cord used to drag the body after death.

The finding of the body was described by John Johnson, caddy, who was searching for a ball on the beach when he noticed a woman's sweater.

Crash Defeats Plane Leader

S. S. Halse, England-Johannesburg, Injured in Rhodesia While Ahead of Competing Pilots

Canadian Press
Capetown, South Africa, Sept. 30.—Capt. S. S. Halse, far ahead of other contestants in the England-to-Johannesburg Air Derby, tonight was reported by Reuters News Agency to have crashed outside Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, 678 miles from his goal. The report said he was taken to a hospital.

Capt. Halse was not seriously injured, it was said, but was forced to withdraw from the race because his plane was severely damaged.

Canadian Press Cable via Reuters's Khartoum, Sudan, Sept. 30.—Capt. S. S. Halse, Johannesburg-Air Club instructor, arrived at noon, G.M.T. (4 a.m. P.S.T.) today at Mbeya, Northern Rhodesia, far in the lead of the London-Johannesburg Air Race.

After a ten-minute halt at Mbeya, he took off again for Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia. He said at Mbeya he hoped to reach Johannesburg about 6 p.m. (10 a.m. P.S.T.).

PLANES OUT FOR HUNTERS

Two Parties Are Reported Missing in Interior of British Columbia

An airplane search for two missing hunting parties believed snowed-in in British Columbia's north woods was instituted today by the Provincial Police from Prince George.

Both parties were from United States and have not been heard from since heavy snows started a few days ago.

One party is in charge of John A. Newberry, Huntington, West Virginia, with W. Kiely as guide. It is not known definitely who else was in the party.

In the other group are Dr. H. Leibold, Parker's Prairie, Minnesota; Dr. J. Carr, Norristown, Penn.; Paul Binet, Minneapolis, and L. S. Chadwick, Cleveland.

Both parties are located in the Dorothy Lake region, near Fort Nelson.

Decrease Equivalent to Slightly Under Two Mills On Property Which May Be Taxed in 1937

Drop $10,000,000 During Five Years

A reduction of $1,890,386 in the 1937 assessment was announced today by George Okell, city assessor-collector. In addition, increases in exemptions, amounting to $142,970, will make a total decrease in taxable values for next year of $2,033,356.

The reduction in land assessments amounts to $487,346, while the decrease in improvements totals $1,546,010 for next year.

Based on the current tax rate of 45 mills on 100 per cent of land assessment and 65 per cent of improvements, the slash in the total means a loss of tax revenue to the city of $67,151.34. That loss represents slightly less than 2 mills, on the assumption 1 mill raises approximately $37,000.

The decrease in exemptions on improvements offsets to a considerable extent the increase in exemptions on land for 1937.

The total exemptions include both types of property.

For 1937, the land exemption total has been raised by $408,580.

On the other hand the improved property exemptions have been reduced by $265,610. The latter reduction leaves the net total exemption showing an increase of $142,970 for next year.

BIG DROP IN FIVE YEARS

The further slash for next year, the fifth in five years, reduced the total land and improvement values on which taxes can be raised to $48,448,390 against $50,681,746 for 1936.

The continued cuts amount to a reduction of over $10,000,000 in five years.

In an explanation of the fall, Mr. Okell today pointed to the stagnation of building in the city during the last four of five years. The value of new construction, he said, fell far below the depreciation of existing structures, bringing about an adverse trend in the assessment.

Drops in revenues from buildings, including rents, along with the drop in land values generally, had been taken into consideration in the making out of the 1937 roll, he explained.

The increase in exemptions on land for next year was brought about largely through further land reversion.

The decrease on improvement exemptions does not represent an increase in taxable assessments for 1937. Mr. Okell explained. The decrease is clearly accounted for in depreciation on those improvements which are already exempt.

Exemptions, he pointed out, amount to approximately 31 per cent of the gross assessment. These exemptions include provincial and Dominion government-owned properties amounting to over 12 per cent, schools, churches, firehalls, city property, parks, cemeteries, hospitals and reverted lands.

WOMAN LOST FROM LINER

Emma White, Young Shanghai Governess, Disappeared From President Jackson

Disappearance from the liner President Jackson, at sea last Saturday of Miss Emma White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas White of Stanley, Wisconsin, was reported by Capt. Morris Seavey, U.S.N.R., when the Jackson docked here this morning from the Orient.

Miss White was last seen by a steward about 8 o'clock last Saturday morning. She was walking in a corridor at the time. At 4 o'clock that afternoon she was missed. Capt. Seavey immediately ordered a search of the vessel, but no trace of the missing woman was found.

Miss White who had been a governess in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culbertson at Shanghai, was about twenty-two years of age.

Yellow-passengers and ship's officers said she was exceedingly quiet and reserved, and kept a great deal to herself. She made no friends among the passengers, although she was pleasant when meeting anyone on deck or in the public rooms. Her cabin had a number of her meals in her cabin, in the tourist class.

There was no note of any description among her effects. Her cabin was left orderly and tidy.

VESSEL HERE AFTER MISHAP

Ss. Aldington Court Has Bow Damaged in Collision in Gulf This Morning

In dense fog about 2 o'clock this morning, the freighters Aldington Court and Appledore grazed each other when passing in the Gulf of Georgia not far from Saturna Island.

Both ships were proceeding dead slow and little damage was done. The Aldington Court, which was proceeding to sea, came into Esquimalt Harbor, however, for survey and repairs. The Appledore continued to Vancouver.

Confined to the Aldington Court was damaged to her forward section, where she was slightly stove in. A couple of plates were split and other minor damage done above the water line.

The Aldington Court was fully loaded with British Columbia lumber and general freight for Montreal. She is under charter to the Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line. Capt. I. Cramp is in command.

Surveyors and a representative of the owners arrived this afternoon from Vancouver to decide about repairs to the ship. She will not have to enter drydock and one or two days' delay will be sufficient, it is believed. Her skipper is anxious to get away as soon as possible, as St. Lawrence River navigation ends about mid-November.

China, Ready to Fight, Is Making Demands on Japan

Dispatches From Shanghai to Tokio Papers Say Nanking Insists on Return of Manchuria

Associated Press
Hankow, China, Sept. 30.—Evidence a Japanese consular policeman was slain Sept. 19 by another Japanese for "personal reasons" was reported today by independent investigators. The report conflicted with Japanese allegations Niwa Jiro Yoshikawa, the policeman, was shot fatally by a Chinese.

The killing was one of the "incidents" for which the Tokio government has demanded formal explanation.

Two Japanese destroyers arrived from Shanghai, bringing additional marines to strengthen the forces already stationed here and instructed to "protect Japanese lives and interests."

Yoshikawa was reported by Japanese sources to have been shot by an unidentified Chinese.

CHINA MAKES DEMANDS

Tokio, Sept. 30 (Associated Press).—China has flatly rejected Japanese demands for indemnities following alleged anti-Japanese "incidents," dispatches to Tokio newspapers from Shanghai asserted today.

Chinese authorities have told Japanese officials, the dispatches added, they will not only "fight to the last ditch" but will make five demands themselves.

RECOVERY OF TERRITORY

The Japanese newspapers listed these items among the Chinese demands:

1. Recovery of Manchukuo
2. Cancellation of the Shanghai trade which followed bitter fighting between Japanese and Chinese around Shanghai in 1932 after a Chinese embargo on Japanese-manufactured goods.
3. Suppression of Japanese smuggling in north China.
4. Cessation of increases in Japanese troops in north China.
5. Halting of Japanese interference in the administration of five northern provinces over which the Tokio government is reported to have demanded jurisdiction.

Swiss to Add To Defences

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 30.—The Swiss Council of States today gave unanimous approval to a military reorganization designed to give the nation more troops and motorized ground and aerial forces.

Defence Minister Minger told the council the international situation was more uncertain than ever and that Switzerland must reinforce her army.

The reorganization would be completed January 1, 1938.

RECOVERY OF TERRITORY

The Japanese newspapers listed these items among the Chinese demands:

1. Recovery of Manchukuo
2. Cancellation of the Shanghai trade which followed bitter fighting between Japanese and Chinese around Shanghai in 1932 after a Chinese embargo on Japanese-manufactured goods.
3. Suppression of Japanese smuggling in north China.
4. Cessation of increases in Japanese troops in north China.
5. Halting of Japanese interference in the administration of five northern provinces over which the Tokio government is reported to have demanded jurisdiction.

City To Sell Outside Bonds

Bids have been called for two issues in the city's sinking fund to meet costs of debentures maturing this year, J. A. Harrison, acting comptroller-treasurer, stated today.

The city holds $130,500 worth of P.G.E. 4 1/2 per cent bonds maturing on July 15, 1942 and $42,278 worth of C.N.P. 4 per cent stock maturing April 2, 1950.

In need of $125,000 cash to meet serials, the city will dispose of the issue which brings the highest bid. They are held as outside investments in the sinking fund.

Franc Bill Voted By French Senate

Upper House Follows Lead of Chamber of Deputies in Approving Devaluation, But Not Price Control

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, Sept. 30.—The French Senate today adopted the franc devaluation bill as a whole, minus its provisions for price control, by a vote of 141 to 125.

In the debate leading up to the final vote, the Senate rejected the article on international payments and adopted a substitute article stipulating all international debts contracted prior to devaluation must be made in "Poincare francs" instead of the new "Auriol francs."

The article dealing with devaluation approved tonight, as voted a couple of days ago by the Chamber of Deputies, suspends provisions of the June 25, 1928, monetary law which set the value of the franc at 65 milligrams of gold of 900 fineness and obligated the Bank of France to guarantee exchange of paper money in circulation for gold.

STRIKE TALK

A rightist senator, Henri Lemery, during the debate today charged the General Confederation of Labor had threatened a general strike in France if Leon Blum's Socialist administration were overthrown on the issue.

He criticized inclusion of "social measures" in the monetary legislation.

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Sept. 30.—A bank overdraft of $1,332,073, tax arrears of $2,500,000, and proposed capital expenditures of $675,000, which cannot be financed, have placed Edmonton in a serious financial condition, according to a special report submitted to Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture.

It was learned yesterday the report was placed with Mr. Gardiner when city officials last Saturday approached the Minister in connection with obtaining a loan of $500,000 from the federal government.
Mr. Gardiner promised he would place the request before federal officials.

SEVENTEEN IN TOKIO FREED

Ten Former Army Officers
Who Talked of Revolt
Still Held

Associated Press
Tokio, Sept. 30.—Seventeen of twenty-seven "God sent" army officers were released from jail, the government announced today, because of their precarious condition.
They had been arrested after professions of belief similar to that of the leaders of the revolt of last February and allegedly held they were "sent by God" to save Japan.
Former Col. Tetsunosuke Yasuda, jailed because he declared "the February events soon will break out again in Tokyo," is among the ten still held.

ST. LOUIS SEES R.C.M.P. SQUAD

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—The widely-heralded slogan, "Get Your Man," and most of the relentless manhunt of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are products of Hollywood, says Major C. H. Hill, who is in charge of the platoon of "Mounties" now appearing at the St. Louis National Horse Show.
"I presume it came from Hollywood. It certainly never came from the Royal Canadian Mounted," Major Hill declared. "Our motto is 'Maintain the Right.'"
"As for the manhunt, there have been a few, but not one every time out, as thriller stories would have everyone believe."
As for Hollywood, Major Hill added that while there had been some exaggeration in plots about the Mounted, the pictures had clung pretty closely to setting a general background.

STUDENTS TO BE DISCIPLINED

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Freshmen and sophomores at the University of British Columbia today faced a threat of punishment at the hands of the discipline committee, a branch of the Students' Council charged with keeping order on the campus, following a near riot.
When the "frosh" were gathered in the auditorium on Monday for instructions in varsity songs and yells a group of sophomores allegedly began dumping contents of waste baskets on them from the gallery above.
A general fight ensued, in which missiles, from ink-bottles to sandwiches, were used.
The discipline committee, however, soon restored order, throwing some of the combatants bodily outside.
The committee may recommend suspension or expulsion of students to the faculty.

Employment Is Showing Gains

Firms in Canada Reported
1,014,532 at Work Sept.
1 as Compared With
999,970 Aug. 1; Advances
Seen in B.C.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Employment statistics for August showed a further substantial gain in employment in Canada, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The upward trend in evidence in previous months was again notable on September 1.
On that date 9,987 employers reported an aggregate payroll of 1,014,532 persons, or 14,562 more than on August 1. On September 1 last year 9,355 employers reported employment of 964,647 persons.

Reflecting this gain the bureau's crude index, based on 1926, rose from 105.06 on August 1 to 107.11 at September 1, both figures comparing favorably with 100.7 on September 1, 1935.

FACTORIES GAIN

An analysis of the returns by industries shows continued expansion in manufacturing; the eighth successive monthly increase since January 1, 1936. On the average over the year, factory employment drops off at September 1, and the advance this year is against the general trend.

Greatest gains occurred in fruit and vegetable canneries and in textile factories, while there were important seasonal losses in fish canneries. Iron and steel plants were also slacker.

Among the non-manufacturing industries, mining, communications, transportation, construction and services showed increased activity. Reductions were noted in logging and trade was practically unchanged.

Firms in all five economic areas reported gains, while those in Quebec and the prairie provinces were most pronounced.

ADVANCES IN B.C.

Employment in British Columbia showed an increase at September 1, the sixth recorded in as many months. Manufacturing on the whole was brisker, the improvement occurring largely in lumber and vegetable food factories, while fish canneries released help. Logging and highway construction and maintenance also showed heightened activity, while railway construction and shipping released some workers. The personnel of the 1,057 firms furnishing data rose from 91,136 persons at August 1 to 92,334 at the beginning of September.

MARITIMES GAIN

Employment in the Maritime Provinces showed a moderate expansion at September 1, the fifth successive increase in as many months. The advance, though not large, is especially interesting because it is contrary to the usual seasonal trend at this time of year. Most of the gains took place in construction and maintenance, mainly of highways and roads. Logging, coal mining and railway construction showed curtailment.

Statistics were received from 701 firms in the Maritime Provinces, whose staffs aggregated 82,130 workers at September 1, 1936, compared with 81,878 in the preceding month.

Increased employment was noted in Quebec, mainly in manufacturing, logging, mining, transportation and trade. Within the first named, the textile, vegetable food, leather, lumber, rubber and some other manufacturing groups showed improvement, while iron and steel, non-ferrous metal and tobacco and beverage factories released employees.

Employment advanced in Montreal, Quebec City, Toronto, Ottawa and Vancouver, while curtailment was noted in Hamilton, Windsor and Winnipeg.

LABOR TO GIVE VIEWS ON ARMS

Attitude of British Party
Will Be Outlined at Convention October 5

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
London, Sept. 30.—The attitude of Labor on the government's disarmament programme will form the most momentous matter to be discussed at the party's annual convention at Edinburgh starting October 5.
While several prominent leaders are expected to urge support with certain qualifications for the building up of the defence force, Lord Ponsonby and Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, the veteran pacifist who formerly was party leader in the House of Commons, probably will head a group maintaining the party must have no truck with rearmament.

The views of Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison, former Minister of Transport and recognized in the Labor party and amongst cabinet ministers alike as one of the ablest of the younger men in the opposition ranks, are awaited with special interest.
Mr. Morrison, leader of the Labor group in the London County Council, speaking last Sunday evening at Blackburn, suggested last week's British speeches at Geneva and elsewhere had been uttered to some extent for the benefit of the Labor convention. He contended the government was anxious to mobilize labor not only in support of rearmament, but also in the sphere of foreign affairs.

"It will be easier to take these democratic sentiments seriously when Sir John Simon (Home Secretary) puts an end to a political party quasi-military in organization doing its best to stimulate race war." (This apparently was a reference to Sir Oswald Moseley's British Fascist Party).
"These Conservative blessings on democracy nevertheless are particularly welcome now in contrast to Lloyd George, who has returned from Germany apparently a half-baked Nazi."
Sir Stafford Cripps, who already has pronounced against "bolstering the capitalist system with guns," voices his conviction that the government has done all it could to prevent any help being rendered the Spanish government.

Tax Arrears Are To Be Cancelled

Canadian Press
Regina, Sept. 30.—Approximately $22,750,000 of tax arrears will be cancelled in the drought area under the Saskatchewan Government's plan of debt adjustment announced Monday, made up largely as follows: Municipal, $9,000,000; schools, $7,000,000; provincial, $6,750,000.

German Crops Show Shortage

Canadian Press From Havas
Berlin, Sept. 30.—Agriculture Minister Walter Darre, in a letter to the Voelkischer Beobachter, organ of the Nazi Party, yesterday said that in all German territory there was available "only between 80 and 85 per cent of the annual consumption of butter and fats."
Estimates of the current German crop have indicated a shortage of wheat, other grain, pork, poultry and other foods during the coming year.

Campaign For Safety Success

Canadian Press
Salford, Lancashire, Eng., Sept. 30.—This great borough adjoining Manchester, which has a population of 225,000, including 36,000 school children, yesterday completed twelve months without a single fatal street accident to a child.
This record was achieved despite the fact that an arterial road to the north, always crowded with traffic, runs through the centre of the town.
It was ascribed mainly to the special reservation of small streets for playing and to a campaign in the schools of addresses and moving on street safety.

GOVERNOR RENOMINATED

Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 30 (Canadian Press).—The Democratic state convention yesterday renominated Governor Herbert H. Lehman by acclamation and adopted a platform pledging the party "to make no compromise in its fight to achieve a more secure and humane social order."

Notes of Gladness

The full scale of enjoyment in "rolling-your-own" is yours from the first—when you roll them with Ogden's Fine Cut.

There are no bars to smoking pleasure in this fragrant, satisfying cigarette tobacco—it's the smoothest and coolest fine cut that ever stepped up to a light. And no matter how many times you "play" Ogden's, morning to night, you'll be satisfied. Particularly if you use the right accompaniment in papers—"Chantecler" or "Vogue".

That purple easy-opening ribbon on the Ogden's package is another note you'll like!

Credit Men Hold Annual Banquet

G. R. Baird and Dr. W. B. Burnett Speak on Widely Different Subjects Before 200 at Empress Hotel

With 200 Victoria, up-land and mainland business men and women attending, and with two speakers discussing widely different subjects in entirely different manners, the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria last night opened its fall and winter season at its fifth annual banquet at the Empress Hotel.

A careful and detailed analysis of the objects and practices of credit granting was given to the meeting by G. R. Baird, Vancouver, credit manager of the Associated Dairies in that city and past president of the Vancouver Retail Credit Association, who this summer attended the national convention of the United States

Credit Granters' Association at Omaha, Nebraska.

Speaking on the subject of "Profitable Credit Policies," Mr. Baird said: "There is really only one credit policy, and that is a profitable one. If it is not profitable it becomes a debit charge to the most obnoxious figure in the balance sheet—bad debts," and then went on to tell how to make that practice profitable.

All over the United States and Canada the granting of credit was on the increase, he said, because times were slowly but definitely getting better, the public was becoming more credit-conscious and people who had had no financial standing in the last few years were beginning to get together again the heavy merchandise which they had had to forego during the lean years.

DANGER OF LAXNESS
"If ever there was a time to be on our toes every minute, it is today, for bad debts are created in good times when we relax our vigilance in the granting of credit," said Mr. Baird. He added that already there was a danger, especially noticeable in the United States, for the sales manager to be in the saddle without check by the credit department, a practice which built up wonderful sales, but at the price of an amazing amount of bad debts.

Credit and sales departments, he said, must forget their divergent viewpoints and work together in the realization that a sale was never completed until the money was in the cash box or the cheque certified by the bank.

Points which he stressed in connection with the proper granting of credit were the correct opening of accounts, the filing of all information immediately with the credit bureau, the frequent clearing of slow accounts and close co-operation between members and the bureau.

Mr. Baird spoke at some length on the question of installment selling, and said that the Omaha convention had been strongly opposed to the system of small down payments and long credits. Cash payments should always be kept above a reasonable minimum and terms held within bounds. The advertising of terms had been definitely opposed by the convention as leading to the breakdown of credit practices.

Mr. Baird mentioned the wonderful reception given to the Canadian delegates at Omaha, and added "The word has already gone all over the United States that we in Canada are granting credit in a more sensible manner than they are."

HUMOR AND PHILOSOPHY

Dr. W. B. Burnett, retired Vancouver physician and president of the Cariboo Gold Quartz Mining Company, announced his subject as "The Inheritance Tax," and gave his listeners something that they had not at all been expecting in the way of dry humor and philosophy.

"You and I have got to live in the house that we build, and while we pay inheritance tax to the people that have gone before us, let us wonder what kind of tax we shall leave for the generations that come after us to pay" was the theme of his speech. He added to it the rider, "We pay homage to some things that men achieve, and in doing so often overlook other things that are equally worthwhile."

Dr. Burnett began his address in humorous vein, telling how dreams of falling were an inheritance tax paid to ancestors who lived in trees, how small boys were urged to walk along the tops of piles of pipes or poles because their cave-dwelling ancestors walked fallen trees to avoid snakes, and how many details of male dress, the notches in lapels, the buttons on cuffs and those at the back of dress suits, were inheritance taxes to previous generations.

Then he went on to speak of other inheritance taxes which the present day paid to previous generations, chiefly greed and grumbling.

T. H. Belick, manager of the Tourist Trade Development Association, spoke briefly at the banquet, thanking the credit granters for their help to his association and asking their support for the winter fair.

Thomas W. Macpherson, president of the Victoria Credit Granters' Association, spoke of the increase of the organization's membership from 60 to 240 in the four years of its life, and stressed the value of the credit bureau and the need for members to file all possible information with it. Mr. Baird was introduced by J. Morse Hatt, and Dr. Burnett by Jimmy Haggart and Ernest Pullerton entertained with a mandoline and accordion duet.

DRIVE IS UNDER WAY

1936 "Y" Membership Campaign Launched at Supper Meeting of Workers

With a total of forty-nine subscriptions valued at $683.50 for the opening night of the campaign, the Y.M.C.A. fall membership drive swung into action yesterday evening.

Sixty-four workers headed by campaign-director E. G. Rowebottom, attended the opening dinner at the Y. Mr. Rowebottom spoke briefly to those present, welcoming the workers and urging the necessity of putting the campaign "over the top."

Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., also spoke briefly, outlining the technicalities of the drive, and explaining the importance of renewing last year's members and bringing in new members.

In reference to the membership campaign, Rev. Dr. A. S. Imrie, Rev. G. A. Reynolds and H. B. Witter, president of the Y.M.C.A., spoke briefly.

Warren W. Martin, as major of the blue division, was presented with the flag for turning in the most satisfactory report in regard to subscriptions for the opening night. Sam Hill was the outstanding captain for the first night, with fourteen memberships valued at $200. The blue team under Mr. Martin secured a total of twenty memberships valued at $291. The campaign will continue until the end of next week. The second report meeting will be held on Friday at the Y.M.C.A. at 6 o'clock.

DUNCAN

Duncan, Sept. 30.—The regular meeting of the W.A. to the hospital was held in the Nurses' Home Monday afternoon, the president, Mrs. N. McIver, being in the chair.

The members decided to abandon the annual summer garden fete and to concentrate on the community bazaar at Christmas in aid of the hospital. This year it is planned for December 5.

The annual fruit and vegetable shower will be held October 26.

The Indians are under sentence to hang for the killing of Constable F. H. Gibson at the Canford Reserve on May 23, 1934.

It was understood the George appeal was the first on the list for the session, scheduled to open on Tuesday. Hon. Gordon M. Sloan, Attorney-General, and J. R. Nicholson will appear for the Crown against the appeal.

Former Victoria Boy Appointed

Selected from many university students in the British Isles, James Cary Goodwin Nisbet, B.Sc., A.R.T.C., formerly of Victoria, will join the staff of Unilever Ltd. at their central development department at Port Sunlight, Cheshire, according to word received here.

Since leaving Victoria in 1932, Mr. Nisbet has studied at the University of Glasgow, graduating with distinction in applied chemistry. He was awarded several scholarships and prizes during his studies.

Mr. Nisbet is the son of Mrs. J. H. Knight, 1503 Rockland Avenue. He attended the University School, Oak Bay High School and Victoria College.

SOCIETY READS DEBATED STORY
A short story which has attracted public attention recently following the statement of Oliver Baldwin, son of England's prime minister, that it was the wickedest ever written—Rudyard Kipling's "Mary Postgate"—was discussed by members of the Victoria Kipling Society last night.

After they had heard the story read by Mrs. W. J. Neal, the members agreed that the tale was a terrible one, but took exception to Mr. Baldwin's words.

A copy of Kipling's "Book of Words" was presented to Mrs. Neal as a prize for winning a Kipling quotation contest. The presentation was made by Mrs. P. R. Leighton.

A. S. G. Cornwell, president of the society, informed members that he would be at home every Monday evening so that they might make use of his library of Kipling works.

Stamp News

By I. S. Klein

Some Harvard enthusiasts still have hopes that a special stamp will be issued soon commemorating the 300th anniversary of the founding of that famous university. They believe that President Roosevelt, a Harvard graduate, will approve such an issue. But officially there is the fear this would set a bad precedent.

The souvenir sheet of four commemorative stamps printed in connection with the international stamp exposition in New York, recently, already has been withdrawn from sale at the Philatelic Agency.

Stamps still available at the agency in Washington, and worth picking up before they are withdrawn, include the all-blue 16c air-mail special delivery, the 10, 15 and 20c airmails, the 1c and 3c Chicago World's Fair stamps in sheets of 25 each, and the 2c experimental electric eye stamp, which is sold only in sheets of 100.

New Zealand soon will issue a set of five stamps commemorating the World Industrial Conference in Wellington. The stamps will be on sale for the month of October only. They total 28c in face value, and picture New Zealand's important industries.

Denmark has issued a set of four values, in two designs, for the 400th anniversary of the Reformation in that country.

A sort of tax stamp, to provide funds for national defence, has appeared in Ecuador. Its use is compulsory on all legal papers, as well as on parcel post and registered mail. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service Inc.)

The Great Geyser, in Iceland, has a basin 70 feet in diameter. It throws up a column of hot water to a height of from 80 to 300 feet.

La Pasionara Modern Joan Of Arc

Spanish Loyalist Is Miner's Wife:
Fiery Crusader

Special Correspondence
London, Sept. 30.—The most influential woman in the world today—Dolores Ibarruri, La Pasionara of Spain—has had remarkable success on her mission to France to recruit sympathy and money for the Spanish government forces.
This woman, tall and prematurely aged, is regarded as a modern Joan of Arc.
Her bravery on the battlefield during the recent bitter fighting, her struggle for education and her ever-ready help for comrades have made her the idol of the Spanish Socialists.
Her nickname, "La Pasionara," which means the Passion Flower, springs from the fiery vigor of her oratory, which alone has won many hundreds of converts to Socialism in Spain during the past ten or twelve years.
This remarkable woman is a miner's wife. Her childhood was that of a typical peasant of some forty years ago. She was completely illiterate when she married at an early age.
Her husband, however, had received a fair education. He was a keen Socialist and he took her to political meetings, gave her books to read and taught her freedom of thought.
Later she visited Moscow, learned there of new openings for women and came back to Spain filled with desire to modernize the old-age customs and traditions which hung like a millstone round the neck of the Spanish peasant.

PRISON AND PERSECUTION
Prison and persecution followed for Dolores Ibarruri, preached rebellion from the old ways of government.

But nothing could quell her spirit. With the spread of Socialism and the election of the Socialist government in February, she was made deputy to the Cortes for the Spanish town of Oviedo. Now, her eyes faded, her hair thin and just beginning to be streaked with grey, she is staking all on an appeal to Socialists throughout Europe.

In France, she has already been successful in collecting many hundreds of thousands of francs for the Spanish government's coffers.
This is how one newspaper correspondent, present at a Paris mass meeting addressed by La Pasionara, describes her charm.

"She was a tall woman, wearing a plain black dress, with a calm and sad face—one of the finest faces I had ever seen," he writes in The Manchester Guardian.
"This miner's wife, with her hair turning grey, had all the noble beauty of the Basque race. When she smiled, she smiled sadly and with some bitterness. She then spoke. She spoke in Spanish. Few people in the audience understood exactly what she said, but the effect of her speech was overwhelming."

"It was the most beautiful voice ever heard on any French public platform," it had the mellow tone of a violin."

Ministering Circle—The Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters will meet on Friday in the restaurant at 3 p.m.

Daughters of Pity Build Cubicles

Give $200 Towards Improvements
In Children's Ward

The Daughters of Pity have undertaken to provide six glass cubicles for the children's ward of the Jubilee Hospital, at a cost of approximately $200. Plans for this were discussed at the meeting held last evening in the Nurses' Home, Miss Kathleen Roberts, president of the Daughters of Pity, in the chair.

The visitors for the month will be Miss Roberts and Miss E. Tait. The annual meeting will be held on October 27, in the Nurses' Home. A letter was read from Miss M. McNeill, thanking the members for the gift of china for the children's ward.

A letter of thanks will be sent to Miss Mona Jewell, whose dance recital netted the sum of $73.00 for the Daughters of Pity, this money to be used for the children's ward. In connection with this recital, the members received a letter from L. A. Grogan of the Shrine Temple, enclosing a donation of $5 towards the Daughters' work.

Weddings

HAMILTON—BROWN

In the chapel of the Metropolitan United Church at 5 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. E. P. Church united in marriage, Madeline G. L. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown, 1209 Basil Avenue, and Mr. Douglas W. Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hamilton of Keating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a smart tailored suit of white flannel, with a white hat, and carried a bouquet of autumn flowers in yellow, white and mauve shades. She was attended by Miss Jessie Hamilton, sister of the bridegroom, wearing a grey dress, trimmed with red and a red hat, while her bouquet matched the color of her hat.

The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Arnold Hamilton, and acting as usher was Mr. Valentine Dawson. Mr. McKewen presided at the organ.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Brown wearing a wine-colored gown with hat to match, and by Mrs. Hamilton in a dress of royal blue, with hat to match.

During the reception the bridal party stood under a white floral arch, from which a wedding bell was suspended. Throughout the home white, mauve and yellow flowers were arranged, the decorations being the handiwork of Mrs. Alex Hamilton, while those in the church had been undertaken by Mrs. Fred Henschell and Mrs. H. Hussey.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left later for a motor trip up the island, and will make their home at Hamerton, where the groom is employed as engineer of the cement works.

Among the many gifts was a chime clock and cheque from the company and its employees.

MACDONALD—DUNBAR

A quiet wedding took place at the home of the Rev. E. W. Horton, Saturday, when Elsie Ellen Dunbar, only daughter of Mrs. F. Lynn, Graham Street, became the bride of David Edwin, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. MacDonald, Pembroke Street. The bride's only attendant was Miss B. MacDonald, and Mr. H. MacDonald supported the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the happy couple stood under an arch, surrounded by a large wedding bell, to receive congratulations. Vases of autumn flowers in mauve and pink decorated the supper table, which was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake.

Later Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald left on a motor tour of Washington and Oregon, the bride travelling in an ensemble of peach bloom boucled-lin and a dark brown lapin coat, with accessories to match.

Among the many handsome gifts was an electric coffee urn from the staff of the government industry, where the bride was formerly employed, and a case of flat silver from the groom's associates at McLennan, McPeckley and Prior. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will reside on Denman Avenue, View Royal.

PIKE—WILLIAMSON

The wedding took place at the residence of the Rev. James Hood, Belmont Avenue, on September 28, of Vera Violet, eldest daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Charles Williamson, and Christopher, only son of Mrs. E. Pike of Saanichton, Skoke, and the late Christopher Belton Pike. The bride recently returned from England for her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Pike will reside at East Skoke.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

A more powerful movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a catalyst but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else, Sir.

Premier Hepburn Adopts a Child

Canadian Press
St. Thomas, Ont., Sept. 30.—A little red-headed girl has been adopted into the family of Premier Hepburn as a sister for four-year-old Peter, who was taken into their farm home near here about a year and a half ago.

The child, Patricia Maxine, is just under three years old, and was brought to the farm by the Premier last Sunday.

The adoption of Patricia ends a year-long search for a sister for Peter.

SPINSTER IS 100

Rumford, Me., Sept. 30 (Associated Press).—Miss Mary Thornton, who will celebrate her 100th birthday October 10, thanked her lucky stars today she never married.

Aunt Mary, as she is known to Rumfordites, is probably Maine's oldest living spinster. The sad experience of some of her friends, she said, turned her mind from thoughts of matrimony.

Miss Thornton's father lived to be 118.

Loves Japan After Many Years There

Miss Alice Adams, Seventy Years of Age, Arrives Here After Forty-six Years in Japan; Honored By Three Emperors and Prime Minister

For forty-six years Miss Alice F. Adams had been a social service missionary in Japan. She was honored by three emperors and a prime minister. She learned to speak Japanese perfectly and became beloved by hundreds of Japanese people. In turn she learned to love them and their country. Only six times in all those years did she come to her American home on furlough.

This morning Miss Adams was a passenger aboard the President Jackson, seventy years of age, but still laughing and smiling, despite a cancerous tumor of her arm, which forced her to give up her duties in Japan and return to her family in Boston.

"But I'm going back to Japan, you know," she said today. "I feel sure a rest will do me the world of good and before long I'll be able to return. I love the Japanese people so, and I love the life they live. There were certainly indications they do. Why, there were hundreds of people out to say good-bye to me the day I sailed. And some of them cried—which is unusual in a Japanese."

Miss Adams does not look ill and does not show the pain she suffers in her left arm. She has reached the Palmist's allotted span, but she has every faculty and her cheerfulness and love of life are amazing.

Miss Adams first went out to Japan in 1891. She was not then twenty-five years of age. Well she remembers the oceanic from San Francisco.

"When I first went there Japan was just a backward country," she recalled this morning. "I have seen it advance from that stage to one of the world's great powers."

"Forty-six years ago we had to get our canned goods and our butter and cereals from America. The butter came out in great tins and tubs. Now all that is changed. Food in Japan is as good as we get it in America."

Years ago Emperor Meiji, the present Emperor's grandfather, realizing the splendid work Miss Adams was doing among the slums of the great city of Okayama, not far from Kobe, presented her with a set of lacquer sake cups, emblazoned with the imperial crest. Later Emperor Taisho honored her with the Blue Ribbon Decoration—only the twelfth that was ever bestowed. That was fifteen years ago.

Last May the present Emperor, Hirohito, gave the Sixth Degree of Merit to Miss Adams. That is usually a posthumous honor, but so highly was Miss Adams thought of that it was presented to her when she was still living.

Ten days ago, as the President

Jackson was at Yokohama, a courier from the Prime Minister of Japan visited Miss Adams and presented her with a handsome silver vase, carved with cherry blossoms.

Miss Adams said she sometimes feels more Japanese than American.

"I have to count up the years and the days in Japanese," she says. "If only Americans would learn to know the Japanese better, I am sure they would love them as I love them."

"I have so many friends there, and I love every one of them. It almost broke my heart to leave. They did everything in their power to keep me there, but it was felt I should be back in America, near my brothers and sisters."

My friends gave me a great send-off. I was driven in an open car from my settlement house to the railroad station. But I am going back. If God spares me, and I think maybe He will."

Miss Adams came home in the care of a missionary nurse.

ROOSEVELT IS CAMPAIGNING

Opens Platform Fight For Re-election With Syracuse, N.Y., Speech

Associated Press
Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt opened his campaign for another New Deal victory at the November election with a repudiation yesterday evening of Communist support and an assault on present and past Republican leadership.

Voting confident in the result of the campaign, Mr. Roosevelt told delegates to the New York State Democratic convention that the Republican leadership would "never comprehend the need for a programme of social justice and of regard for the well-being of the masses of our people."

In many respects the convention floor and atmosphere resembled the national party conclave in Philadelphia—banners blaring, crowds milling, county standards waving and noisy party enthusiasm.

"RED HERRING"
Laughter and applause rolled through the assembly as he led up to the repudiation of Communism by observing that in this campaign another "red herring turns up."

Men and women came to their feet, waving flags and hats and shouting when he said he repudiated the "support of any advocate of Communism or any other alienism which would by fair means or foul change our American Democracy."

J. C. Marlin Of Kamloops Dies

Kamloops, Sept. 30.—A funeral service was held today for the late Joseph Clark Marlin. One of the original members of the Northwest Mounted Police, Mr. Marlin died here Sunday in his ninety-second year.

Presence of Mind
Two men in a car went past the automatic signals and were stopped by a constable.

"I'm sorry," said the driver, quickly, "but I happen to be a doctor and I'm taking a patient to the asylum in a hurry."

The officer was suspicious, and looked penetratingly at the passenger. But the latter was also quick-witted and, looking up at the constable with a serene smile, whispered: "Kiss me, darling!"

Mother Enters Law College

Associated Press
Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—Mother of a seventeen-year-old girl, a practicing physician, and today she became a law student at the University of Pennsylvania—that's Dr. Alice Bush-Whipple of Reading, Pa.

"I like to study," she said, as she registered at the university. "You might say I like learning for the sake of learning. Also, I've been engaged in medical work for the House of the Good Shepherd in Reading; those girls need advice so, and I felt I might be able to help them better if I knew law as well as medicine."

Her husband, C. C. Whipple, is in the trust department of a Pennsylvania insurance company.

Columnist Goes English Here

E. V. Durling of Los Angeles Times Played Bowls and Cricket to Get Atmosphere; Finds Red-headed Waitresses Employed and Tall Girls With Short Boy Friends

E. V. Durling, columnist for The Los Angeles Times, who was a recent visitor here, has some nice and pertinent things to say about Victoria in his column "On the Side."

A clipping of The Los Angeles Times of September 20, just received by the Victoria Publicity Bureau, reads in part as follows: "Did I say this was a good place to spend three days. Make it two weeks. I've been around—getting acquainted—nice people here. Was just out playing a bit of lawn bowls with some of the boys. Outside of having a hard time bowling and keeping the ball on the lawn I got along fine. However, I'm going to practice and before I am through will issue a challenge to any of the Hollywood British colony set, including C. Aubrey Smith. My cricket is improving. The only part I don't like about this game is the fielding and running between wickets. What interests me is walloping that pill with that flat bat. Yes, I can hit it, too, no matter how much English the bowler puts on the ball."

"There's a hotel here which employs only red-headed women. And one of the waitresses informed me they 'have to be genuine red-heads.'"

"Many tall women here, too. They seem to have short boy-friends, or husbands. The males, however, seem very aggressive and the big girls follow them around very meekly. . . . Film 'Secret Patrol' being currently shown was made in and around Victoria and Vancouver Island. Great movie fans here."

"At one county fair here they had a ladies' nail-driving contest. At another they had a dog's tail-wagging contest. The winning pup wagged its tail 320 times a minute. Pretty good, but I wish I had the dog I lost last winter."

"If it is a Canadian Pacific steamship, it is either the Empress of something or Princesses or Duchesses that. When you travel around this country if the Canadian Pacific doesn't get you the Canadian National must."

"There seems to be a disagreement as to this city's slogan. Some call it 'The City of Enchantment,' others 'The City of Sunshine and Romance,' or 'The City of Sunshine and Flowers,' and still others 'A Little Bit of England.'"

Florence Malcolm, treasurer. The president was chosen as delegate to the provincial conference at Nanaimo and Stanley Laver and Iris Smith were elected delegates to the local council. On Wednesday, November 25, St. John's A.Y.P.A. will present a play. All members who are interested in taking part in this production are asked to meet in the schoolroom on Thursday at 7:30 o'clock.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Households move more smoothly when they are run by schedule. The housewife with time on her hands is the one who has planned her work and knows when she must do it.

When there are small children, the need for a workmanlike and orderly routine is imperative. Children are happier and more easily managed when their days follow a definite plan. There is a real sense of satisfaction for them when they go to bed at the same time each day and their naps follow their meals. They anticipate their bath and enjoy having it come regularly at the anticipated time.

OCCASIONAL VARIATIONS

Almost any child, one used to an orderly routine is upset when it is changed. That makes it equally imperative that no schedule should be so inflexible that the child never experiences change. It is fine, on occasion, to let someone besides Jane or Mother put Tommy to bed. It is a splendid idea to allow a child to go to sleep in another room or on a strange bed.

Keep up the good habits, as far as possible, but at times introduce variations. Then, when emergencies arise in which a child must sleep away from home, or rest on a strange bed, or use a toilet in some unusual place, there will be no crying and balking. SCHEDULES SIMPLY WORK.

The child should not be subjected to an unplanned life in which meals, naps, bedtimes and recreation are at the whim or convenience of his parent. This gives him a sense of uneasiness and insecurity. Nothing is fixed, nothing is habitual, and he lives in turmoil and confusion, which are had not only for the formation of good habits, but for serenity of mind.

Schedules may seem formidable to the haphazard housewife, but in reality they make for simplification of work and for easier management of children.

The following leaflets may be found helpful by mothers who wish to map-out their household activities: "Schedule for Small Baby," "Schedule for Pre-School Child" and "Schedule for Two Children." Your request should be sent with a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

Suffragettes Plan Dinner

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Sept. 29.—Militant pioneer survivors of the vote-for-women agitation of twenty-five years ago are arranging a dinner to commemorate the late Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and other "martyrs to the cause."

They were known generally as the suffragettes but some people called them "the shrieking sisterhood."

Guest of honor at the dinner will be Ex-Inspector Jarvis, now seventy-four, who retired some years ago. As a smart young inspector Jarvis used to run in the suffragettes when, as the police, he put it, "the girls were out."

Feminine window smashers and church incendiaries never bore the police ill-will. In fact, they often sought their protection as a refuge from indignant mobs.

TODAY IS OURS

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JUDITH HOWARD has been engaged to STEPHEN FOWLER for four years. She wants to be married and keep her job in the business office but Steve will not hear of this.

Judith needs Steve for lunch and they go over the familiar arguments. Judith points out that her friends, VIRGINIA and BOB BENT, are happily married, though both have jobs. Steve refuses to be convinced. Finally Judith threatens to break the engagement.

Steve, suddenly realizing she is in earnest, asks to come to her apartment that evening to talk the matter over. He comes and a short time later Bob and Virginia Bent arrive with their friend, TOBY LYNCH.

While the girls are preparing sandwiches Steve and Toby get into an argument and Steve strikes Toby.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:
CHAPTER IV
Steve stood towering, still white with rage, while Toby Lynch rubbed the side of his face with a trembling palm.

Bob rushed forward, grabbing Steve's half-raised arm. "Good Lord, Steve! Hang onto yourself! Toby didn't mean anything."

Slowly Lynch got to his feet, partly angered and partly frightened. "What's the idea, Steve? Looks to me as if three fellows ought to be able to get into a discussion without a brawl."

"I didn't mind your generalities," mentioned Steve icily. "But when you applied them to Judith and me, you were going a little too far."

"I didn't mean anything," said Toby, still rubbing his cheek.

Bob looked at Steve Fowler. "There you are, Toby's apologized for a loose tongue. Looks to me like you'd better apologize for a loose temper, Steve."

There was a moment of tense silence, and then, slowly, Steve said, "All right. Let's forget it. I'm sorry, Lynch."

"Better go in and wash up," Bob advised Toby. "We mustn't let the girls know about this."

Toby nodded and left for the bathroom. When the door had shut behind him, and they could hear the cold water running into the bowl, Bob said, "He was wrong, Steve. I'll grant you that. But so are you."

He held out a package of cigarettes toward Steve, held a light in nervous fingers. "I still think Virginia and I are right."

Steve shot him a sour glance. "Now don't you start, Bob."

"I'm not starting anything, Steve. I've a right to defend my position, haven't I?" Bent grinned up at the other. "Even at the risk of a poke in the nose?"

Despite himself, Steve had to smile. "I guess my nerves have been jittery lately. Go ahead, Bob."

"If a man can't support a girl on his own earnings—and the girl has a job of her own—then I think it's okay for them to marry, if it happens to be agreeable to both of them."

"I know," said Steve, gazing at the glowing end of his cigarette. "That's the modern idea. But I'm just old-fashioned enough to believe—"

"Modern!" exclaimed Bob in disgust. "Listen, Steve. My grandfather and grandmother were married at the ages of 19 and 16, respectively. The old boy had a farm, and when my grandmother married him it was with the understanding that she'd have cows to milk and butter to churn. . . . harvest crews to cook for and wash dishes after. . . . fruit to put up and quilts to make. Work?

agreement with his principles. "Sure, Bob. But girls were different in your grandmother's day. The whole world was different."

"All right. You're entitled to your opinion, and I'm entitled to mine. My idea is that the world isn't so much different now from what it was then. Certainly people aren't any different."

The argument might have gone on, but just then Toby emerged from the bathroom looking quite recovered

Steve paused. "You really meant it when you said we were through?" he asked. "I—yes, Steve," Judith told him. "I really meant it."

Say, my grandmother did more work in a day than Virginia has to do in a month at the office!"

In the excitement, Bob Bent paced across the room. At the other end he turned suddenly and poked his cigarette toward Steve. "There's nothing modern or revolutionary about what Virginia and I are doing, Steve. It's old as the hills."

Steve grinned. But it was a stubborn, sober grin—and it was a grin at Bob's enthusiasm rather than at —but none the less sheepish. He walked straight toward Steve. "One of my many failings," he said slowly, extending his hand, "is that I shoot off my face too much."

With genuine sincerity Steve Fowler took Lynch's hand. "Forget it, Toby. I've been overly touchy on the subject lately. I'm the one who should apologize."

There was an awkward silence. Broken fortunately by the return of Judith Howard and Virginia Bent, the latter bearing a huge plate stacked high with sandwiches. With a gesture of formal ceremony she set the plate upon the table in the center of Judith's room. "We're women," she said impressively. "But you can't say that we toil not, nor spin."

The three men were ill at ease, curiously afraid that somehow the girls might recognize that something had gone wrong in their absence. They were like small boys caught in suspicious proximity to the jam closet. But if Judith and Virginia detected anything amiss, they gave no sign of it. The next moment the five were attacking the sandwiches with enthusiasm while Judith's percolator gurgled merrily in the kitchenette.

Nevertheless, the ghost of a queer frown hung over the modest apartment, and the party soon sagged. Ten o'clock struck itself off on Judith's little clock—and then 11. Once or twice Virginia looked significantly at Judith, but Steve stayed on. It began to look as if he were quite prepared to outwait Judith's protectors.

"Well. . . . Virginia stifled a yawn. "I've work to do tomorrow. I don't know about the rest of you."

Toby Lynch got up. "That goes for me, too." He turned to Judith. "I've had a fine time."

"Thank the Bents. Bob furnished the cocktails and Virginia the sandwiches."

"All right," laughed Toby. "To all those present, thanks for a lovely evening, or whatever the song says."

But Virginia didn't leave the apartment without a warning glance for Judith. Steve noticed it, and stubbornly put down his hat to wait until Lynch and the Bents were gone.

"I thought they'd never leave," he told Judith.

Nervously she glanced at the clock. "It is late. And I'm dead tired."

"Judith. . . . Steve made no move from his spot by the table.

"Yes, Steve?"

"I want to apologize now for something that happened here tonight."

Puzzled, Judith looked up at him. "What do you mean, Steve?"

"I—well, Toby Lynch said something I didn't like, and I. . . . His voice trailed into silence.

"Yes, Steve?"

"I guess I lost my temper."

Judith turned, facing him squarely. "You didn't fool me, Steve. And I don't think you fooled Virginia either. I'd be willing to bet right now she's cross-questioning Bob about what happened in here while we were making the sandwiches. You got into an argument with Toby, didn't you?"

Steve colored. "I'm afraid it was worse than—than an argument."

"Foolish? Maybe it was foolish to you, Judith. But it wasn't to me. Lynch made the suggestion that you and I follow his own philosophy."

"Well," she met his eyes squarely. "It was Toby's privilege to make the suggestion, wasn't it?"

Steve looked instantly horrified. "Judith! You don't mean that. You—you can't have any idea of what—of why I got so at Lynch."

"No," asked Judith. "I have a pretty fair idea of what Toby Lynch suggested. I know the story that's been going around about him."

Steve stepped back as if from a blow. "You don't mean to say you've known it—and yet you let him come here?"

"He comes here with Virginia and Bob," Judith reminded him quietly, "and Virginia and Bob are my friends."

"Then you approve of what he's doing?"

Judith shook her head. "I don't approve of it, Steve. But I consider if Toby Lynch's business—and nobody else's. Even if it's true, and I don't know that it is, it's none of my affair."

"I suppose," Steve said, "that you'd consider it nobody's affair if you and I. . . ."

"No," Judith interrupted quickly, the ghost of a bitter smile on her face. "You assume too much, Steve. If you think that I love you enough to want you outside of marriage."

He looked down at her, nonplussed and bitter. "I can't figure you out at all, Judith."

She watched him take up his hat, start toward the door. He paused in the hallway to ask, "You really meant it when you said we were through?"

"I. . . . yes, Steve. I really meant it."

The door opened and closed. Through filmed eyes Judith saw the knob turn as he released it.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

One of the most significant developments in modern medical science is the widespread promotion and use of antiseptics in personal hygiene.

There are many antiseptics now available for use on the skin, and in mouth, nose, eyes and the various cavities of the body. Also antiseptics for use in first aid and for overcoming local infections.

The most widely known antiseptics for use on the skin are tincture of iodine and 2 per cent mercuric-chrome solution.

This council, which includes some seventeen authorities in various departments of medicine, has not approved such widely advertised antiseptics as are commonly recommended for throat infections and for prevention of various types of infectious diseases, including colds.

There is no scientific evidence that any of the preparations which may be used in gargles or sprays, or in any other similar manner, will prevent the onset of the common cold.

Neither is there any evidence that any of these antiseptic solutions is of real value when used as a gargle to destroy germs in mouth and throat. Chief value of such use is to wash the infectious material out of the mouth, and this can be accomplished just as well with a weak solution of salt water.

Many people, however, prefer the clean taste that is associated with the use of an antiseptic mouth wash, and others seem to get a good deal of confidence out of having such antiseptic mixtures available.

Among the materials most widely used as mouth washes and gargles, as well as sprays, are the antiseptic solutions which are included in a book called the "National Formulary," a volume known by druggists to include many other preparations besides those listed in the United States Pharmacopoeia.

This formulary includes both acid and alkaline antiseptic solutions similar to some of the solutions most widely advertised. There are also mixtures containing bicarbonate of soda which are considered cleansing when there is mucus present.

Most druggists prepare their own antiseptic solutions, which can be bought at prices lower than some of the widely promoted preparations.

In the choice of a mouth wash or lotion, the average person will do fairly well if he can find one which tastes and feels right without worrying very much about the antiseptic efficiency.

One of the best old-fashioned antiseptic solutions for use in the home is boric acid. Most people prefer to have packages of crystals of boric acid, or boric acid powder, and to make up a solution just before they use it.

A recent development is the chlorinated soda mixture which, during the World War, was called Dakin's solution. There are now a variety of antiseptic solutions depending on chlorine as the chief antiseptic ingredient.

Among the most efficient of the antiseptics are those depending on mercury or phenol or carbolic acid. The phenol antiseptics have the distinct smell of carbolic acid or cresol.

All the mercury antiseptics are dangerous poisons and, if they are kept in the home, they should be guarded carefully. Every bottle containing such preparations should be marked "Poison."

There is alcohol. Fifty per cent alcohol is a good antiseptic solution and serves all the purposes of other antiseptics. However, plenty of soap and water is equally valuable and soaps, such as the tincture of green soap, serve also as antiseptics in the absence of other more pleasant mixtures and combinations.

Finally, hydrogen peroxide solution should be mentioned as a fairly safe antiseptic substance. When diluted one-half with water, this makes a good cleansing solution for wounds. And when you must have a gargle, one part of hydrogen peroxide to three parts of water can be used for this purpose.

CHANGED HER SHOES FIVE TIMES A DAY

Suffered for 20 Years with Rheumatism

Try and picture the life this woman led for twenty years—changing her shoes several times a day in a vain endeavor to attain some relief from the rheumatic pains that were constantly troubling her. Then imagine her joy when she found that Kruschen was driving away the rheumatism. This is what she writes—

"I have been using Kruschen Salts for four years. For twenty years previously I had suffered with my feet, sometimes changing my shoes five times a day, and frequently sitting without any as the pain was so great. Now I wear the same pair of shoes all day with comfort. I cannot speak too highly of Kruschen Salts. Only those who had been in constant pain with their feet for years can realize what it is to be free."—(Mrs.) E. A.

It is deposits of excess uric acid, lodging between the joints, which are frequently the cause of rheumatism. Kruschen Salts contain two ingredients—sodium and potassium—which are effective solvents of uric acid.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a catalyst but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else, etc.

Premier Hepburn Adopts a Child

Canadian Press
St. Thomas, Ont., Sept. 30.—A little red-headed girl has been adopted into the family of Premier Hepburn as a sister for four-year-old Peter, who was taken into their farm home near here about a year and a half ago.

The child, Patricia Maxine, is just under three years old, and was brought to the farm by the Premier last Sunday.

The adoption of Patricia ends a year-long search for a sister for Peter.

SPINSTER IS 100

Rumford, Me., Sept. 30 (Associated Press).—Miss Mary Thornton, who will celebrate her 100th birthday October 10, thanked her lucky stars today she never married.

Aunt Mary, as she is known to Rumfordites, is probably Maine's oldest living spinster. The sad experience of some of her friends, she said, turned her mind from thoughts of matrimony.

Miss Thornton's father lived to be 118.

Loves Japan After Many Years There

Miss Alice Adams, Seventy Years of Age, Arrives Here After Forty-six Years in Japan; Honored By Three Emperors and Prime Minister

For forty-six years Miss Alice P. Adams had been a social service missionary in Japan. She was honored by three emperors and a prime minister. She learned to speak Japanese perfectly and became beloved by hundreds of Japanese people. In turn she learned to love them and their country. Only six times in all those years did she come to her American home on furlough.

This morning Miss Adams was a passenger aboard the President Jackson, seventy years of age, but still laughing and smiling, despite a cancerous tumor of her arm, which forced her to give up her duties in Japan and return to her family in Boston.

"But I'm going back to Japan, you know," she said today. "I feel sure a rest will do me the world of good and before long I'll be able to return. I love the Japanese people so, and I feel sure they love me. There were certainly indications they do. Why, there were hundreds of people out to say good-bye to me the day I sailed. And some of the cries—which is unusual in a Japanese."

Miss Adams does not look ill and does not show the pain she suffers in her left arm. She has reached the Psalmist's allotted span, but she has every faculty and her cheerfulness and love of life are amazing.

Miss Adams first went out to Japan in 1891. She was not then twenty-five years of age. Well she remembers the day she sailed on the old steamer Ozeppo from San Francisco.

"When I first went there Japan was just a backward country," she called this morning. "I have seen it advance from that stage to one of the world's great powers."

"Forty-six years ago we had to get our canned goods and our butter and cereals from America. The butter came out in great tins and tubs. Now all that is changed. Food in Japan is as good as we get it in America."

Years ago Emperor Meiji, the present Emperor's grandfather, realizing the splendid work Miss Adams was doing among the slums of the great city of Okayama, not far from Kobe, presented her with a set of lacquer sake cups, emblazoned with the Imperial crest. Later Emperor Taisho honored her with the Blue Ribbon Decoration, only the twelfth that was ever bestowed. That was fifteen years ago.

Last May the present Emperor, Hirohito, gave the Sixth Degree of Merit to Miss Adams. That is usually a posthumous honor, but so highly was Miss Adams thought of that it was presented to her when she was still living.

Ten days ago, as the President

Jackson was at Yokohama, a courier from the Prime Minister of Japan visited Miss Adams and presented her with a handsome silver vase, carved with cherry blossoms.

Miss Adams said she sometimes feels more Japanese than American. "I have to count up the years and the days in Japanese," she says.

"If only Americans would learn to know the Japanese better, I am sure they would love them as I love them," she said. "I have so many friends there, and I love every one of them. It almost broke my heart to leave. I did everything in their power to keep me there, but it was felt I should be back in America, near my brothers and sisters."

My friends gave me a great send-off. I was driven in an open car from my settlement house to the railroad station. But I am going back, if God spares me, and I think maybe He will."

Miss Adams came home in the care of a missionary nurse.

ROOSEVELT IS CAMPAIGNING

Opens Platform Fight For Re-election With Syracuse, N.Y., Speech

Associated Press
Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt opened his campaign for another New Deal victory at the November election with a reputation yesterday evening of Communist support and an assault on present and past Republican leadership.

Voicing confidence in the result of the campaign, Mr. Roosevelt told delegates to the New York State Democratic convention that the Republican leadership would "never comprehend the need for a programme of social justice and of regard for the well-being of the masses of our people."

In many respects the convention floor and atmosphere resembled the national party conclave in Philadelphia—bands blaring, crowds milling, county standards waving and noisy party enthusiasm.

"RED HERRING"
Laughter and applause rolled through the assembly as he led up to the repudiation of Communism by observing that in this campaign another "red herring" turns up.

Men and women came to their feet, waving flags and hats and shouting when he said he repudiated the "support of any advocate of Communism or any other alienism which would by fair means or foul change our American Democracy."

Hubby — My dear, women's hats will be divided into two styles, as usual — the style you don't like and the style I can't afford.

J. C. Marlin Of Kamloops Dies

Kamloops, Sept. 30.—A funeral service was held here today for the late Joseph Clark Marlin. One of the original members of the Northwest Mounted Police, Mr. Marlin died here Sunday in his ninety-second year.

Presence of Mind
Two men in a car went past the automatic signals and were stopped by a constable.

"I'm sorry," said the driver, quickly, "but I happen to be a doctor and I'm taking a patient to the asylum in a hurry."

The officer was suspicious, and looked penetratingly at the passenger. But the latter was also quick-witted and, looking up at the constable with a serene smile whispered: "Kiss me, darling!"

Mother Enters Law College

Associated Press
Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—Mother of a seventeen-year-old girl, a practicing physician, and today she became a law student at the University of Pennsylvania—that's Dr. Alice Bush-Whipple of Reading, Pa.

"I like to study," she said, as she registered at the university. "You might say I like learning for the sake of learning. Also, I've been engaged in medical work for the House of the Good Shepherd in Reading; those girls need advice so, and I felt I might be able to help them better if I knew law as well as medicine."

Her husband, C. C. Whipple, is in the trust department of a Pennsylvania insurance company.

Columnist Goes English Here

E. V. Durling of Los Angeles Times Played Bowls and Cricket to Get Atmosphere; Finds Red-headed Waitresses Employed and Tall Girls With Short Boy Friends

E. V. Durling, columnist for The Los Angeles Times, who was a recent visitor here, has some nice and pertinent things to say about Victoria in his column "on the Side."

A clipping of The Los Angeles Times of September 30, just received by the Victoria Publicity Bureau, reads in part as follows: "Did I say this was a good place to spend three days. Make it two weeks. I've been around getting acquainted. Nice people here. Was just out playing a bit of lawn bowls with some of the boys. Outside of having a hard time bowling and keeping the ball on the lawn I got along fine. However, I'm going to practice and before I am through will issue a challenge to any of the Hollywood British colony set, including C. Aubrey Smith. My cricket is improving. The only part I don't like about this game is the fielding and running between wickets. What interests me is the whalloping that pill with that flat bat. Yes, I can hit it, too, no matter how much English the bowler puts on the ball."

"There's a hotel here which employs only red-headed women. And one of the waitresses informed me they 'have to be genuine red-heads.'"

"Many tall women here, too. They seem to have short boy-friends, or husbands. The males, however, seem very aggressive and the big girls follow them around very meekly. . . . Film 'Secret Patrol' being currently shown was made in and around Victoria and Vancouver Island. Great movie fans here."

"At one county fair here they had a ladies' nail-driving contest. At another they had a dog's tail-wagging contest. The winning pup wagged its tail 320 times a minute. Pretty good, but I wish I had the dog I lost last winter."

"If it is a Canadian Pacific steamship, it is either the Empress of something or Princess, this or Duchess that. When you travel around this country if the Canadian Pacific doesn't get you the Canadian National must."

"There seems to be a disagreement as to this city's slogan. Some called it 'The City of Enchantment', others 'The City of Sunshine and Romance', or 'The City of Sunshine and Flowers', and still others 'A Little Bit of England.'"

Florence Malcolm, treasurer. The president was chosen as delegate to the provincial conference at Nanaimo and Stanley Laver and Iris Smith were elected delegates to the local council. On Wednesday, November 25, St. John's A.Y.P.A. will present a play. All members who are interested in taking part in this production are asked to meet in the schoolroom on Thursday at 7:30 o'clock.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

Households move more smoothly when they are run by schedule. The housewife with time on her hands is the one who has planned her work and knows when she must do it.

When there are small children, the need for a workmanlike and orderly routine is imperative. Children are happier and more easily managed when their days follow a definite plan. There is a real sense of satisfaction for them when they go to bed at the same time each day and their naps follow their meals. They anticipate their bath and enjoy having it come regularly at the anticipated time.

OCCASIONAL VARIATIONS

Almost any child, one used to an orderly routine is upset when it is changed. That makes it equally imperative that no schedule should be so inflexible that the child never experiences change. It is fine, on occasion, to let someone besides Jane or Mother put Tommy to bed. It is a splendid idea to allow a child to go to sleep in another room or on a strange bed.

Keep up the good habits as far as possible, but at times introduce variations. Then, when emergencies arise in which a child must sleep away from home, or rest on a strange bed, or use a toilet in some unusual place, there will be no crying and balking.

SCHEDULES SIMPLY WORK

The child should not be subjected to an unplanned life in which meals, naps, bedtimes and recreation are at the whim or convenience of his parent. This gives him a sense of uneasiness and insecurity. Nothing is fixed, nothing is habitual; and he lives in turmoil and confusion, which are bad not only for the formation of good habits, but for serenity of mind.

Schedules may seem formidable to the haphazard housewife, but in reality they make for simplification of work and for easier management of children.

The following leaflets may be found helpful by mothers who wish to map out their household activities: "Schedule for Small Baby," "Schedule for Pre-School Child" and "Schedule for Two Children." Your request should be sent with a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

Suffragettes Plan Dinner

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTION
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Sept. 29.—Militant pioneer suffragettes of the votes-for-women agitation of twenty-five years ago are arranging a dinner to commemorate the late Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and other "martyrs to the cause."

They were known generally as the suffragettes but some people called them "the shrieking sisterhood."

Guest of honor at the dinner will be Ex-Inspector Jarvis, now seventy-four, who retired some years ago. As a smart young inspector Jarvis used to run in the suffragettes when, as the police genially put it, "the girls were out."

Feminine window smashers and church incendiaries never bore the police ill-will. In fact, they often sought their protection as a refuge from indignant mobs.

Ada Mackenzie Is Eliminated From U.S. Women's Golf

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

BREAKING up of the great basketball machine that carried Victoria to the top in national senior men's competition is a serious setback to the game in this city. Regardless of which faction is right, the fact remains that the combination, first as the Blue Ribbons and later as the Dominos, which won two Canadian titles and was runner-up in a third, is gone is what matters. Where there was only one team before there is now two.

We can safely say there is not enough material in Victoria and district to make up two good senior men's teams. In previous seasons the Ribbons and Dominos had plenty of trouble finding enough new material as replacements. That just goes to prove there will not be sufficient recruits for two clubs. There can only be one result. First-class players may be developed by both the new outfits but that will take time. It can not be done in one season.

For the last few seasons Victoria fans have been educated to basketball of the highest calibre. The exhibition games every winter against the crack squads from Seattle produced competition that ranked with the finest on the continent. Just how are those fans going to react if they have to put up with basketball of a far inferior brand? They are not going to like it and that is only natural. Victoria has the material for one good team and that is all.

Of course we realize there must have been discussion in the ranks of the split would never have taken place. It is unfortunate that something could not have been done that would have brought the two sides together and resulted in harmony again. As it is now the members of both sides are pretty bitter and from what we hear they will never play together again as a unit.

From the Battery to the Bronx in New York they rooted fervently for what is locally called a Sc series. Now they have it, and the raucous squawk is on.

It has been professional baseball's traditional privilege to jack world series prices up to more than three times the regular tariff.

As though boosting the post of a featured grandstand seat from $4.50 to $5.50 was not bad enough, the magnates force the customers to buy them in blocks of three at $16.50 per block. If the paying guest prefers the aristocratic dignity of a box seat, he pays $18.50 on the line for three games at $6.00 per.

Ordinary fans, who support the business all season long, have good reason for bitter complaint in New York. They suffer a double dose of this gouging, although the great majority of them are not in position to stand one.

When they finish paying the National Exhibition Co. for the three home games of the Giants, they must kick in a like amount to the American League Club of New York for their engagements at Yankee Stadium.

That is, if they can afford it. In the case of the average addict, he can not, so he reads about his heroes in the newspapers, while ticket speculators clear up on better fixed "now and then," who gladly pay any price just to say "I was there."

Of course if the ordinary fan cares to stand in line all day, he may be recompensed with a single reserved seat in a distant corner of the grandstand for $3.00, or a perch in the bleachers for $1.10, provided there are any left when he reaches the window.

That is his reward for turning out week in and week out, especially during the visits of fall-out outfits.

Pete Wilson To Play Last Game

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Pete Wilson, long one of Vancouver's rugby stars, will play his last game in British Columbia on Saturday when he appears with the North Shore All-Blacks against Rowing Club in North Vancouver.

Five of his teammates, Vern Mercer, Jack Shaw, John Sutherland, Jack McVeety and Ron Fraser, will be absent from the game, leaving the All-Blacks a weakened team.

The Victoria West Football Club will hold a workout this evening at 6 o'clock at Central Park. All players are requested to turn out.

Pam Barton In Close Victory

Summit, N.J., Sept. 30.—Pamela (Pam) Barton, nineteen-year-old British champion and warmly-regarded contender for the United States women's golf title relinquished by Glenna Collett Vare, today defeated Mrs. Thomas Rudel, former Montreal star now living in Bayshore, N.Y., 2 and 1 to advance to the third round.

Estelle Lawson Page, Chapel Hill, N.C., the qualifying medalist, entered the third round by defeating Mrs. Russell Holman, South Beach, Conn., 7 and 5.

Ada Mackenzie, Canadian veteran of the golf wars, swung easily through the first round of match play in the championship yesterday, while Mrs. Rudel provided one of the few upsets of the chilly day.

While the Toronto woman was steering expertly between the hazards of the Canoe Brook Country Club layout to vanquish Mrs. Fritz Stifel, well-known West Virginian, 5 and 3, Mrs. Rudel, the former Doris Taylor, Montreal and now of New York, toppled the Pacific Northwest champion, Marian McDougall, Portland, Oregon, 5 and 4.

MISS BERG RALLIES
Patty Berg, runner-up last year, had to stage a courageous uphill fight to stand off Eva Shorb of Ohio, in a battle of eighteen-year-olds yesterday.

Two down and five holes to play against the comparatively unknown Ohioan, the snub-nosed red-headed Minneapolis walloper gamely pulled out the match on the eighteenth green. She canned a ticklish seven and one-half foot putt for a par five, while Miss Shorb's try from eight feet for a half failed on the lip of the cup.

Meantime eighteen-year-old Pam Barton, Britain's popular champion, easily survived the opening barrage. With her wood shots covering amazing distances, the smiling English girl thumped Mrs. Leon Solomon, Kansas City, Miss Barton was seven over par for the thirteen holes of the match but Mrs. Solomon said, "Pam is the girl to beat."

MEALIST WINS
Monday's medalist, Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Greensboro, N.C., led yesterday's parade of shotmakers striving to stay in the championship flight. The North Carolina matron, who hails from the same place that Tony Manners, United States open titleholder, calls home, handed Mrs. John J. Mearns, Glenview, N.Y., a 4 and 3 drubbing.

Mrs. Page wasted no time as she loured the first nine holes in an under par performance.

Mrs. Frank Goldschmidt, Fort Worth, Tex., 1935 Curtis Cup player, was knocked out by the veteran Mary K. Browne, Willsborough, Ohio, runner-up twelve years ago, by 3 and 1 after leading 1 up at the turn.

Dean Detton, whose victory last week in Philadelphia over Levin gave him titular recognition in Pennsylvania, flattened Harry Fields, 242, Philadelphia, with an airplane spin and body slam in 13.20 of the semi-final. Detton, from Salt Lake City, sealed 202.

Wenstob Scores Early Knockout
Chicago, Sept. 30.—Eddie Wenstob, Edmonton heavyweight, scored a two-round knockout over George Vallias, Birmingham, Ala., here last night.

The broad-shouldered Canadian was too strong for the southerner and there appeared little doubt of the outcome of the bout after Eddie opened his opponent soon after the opening bell with a two-fisted volley to the head.

The weights were: Wenstob 176½; Vallias 178½.

Cox's Army To Meet in Town

"Rebel" Mowat, who will lead Cox's Army against the Gryo Club in the opening game of donkey baseball at the Willows Horse Show Building tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, announced today he wants all his players to meet at the British Public Schools Club at 6:45 o'clock sharp.

Members of the Army will don their dress uniforms at these quarters and then proceed to the Willows for the battle.

According to advance reports there will be a bumper crowd on hand to see the mokes in action.

STAN HORNE GOLF CHAMP

Ottawan Wins Canadian Professional Championship With Score of 294

Kington, Ont., Sept. 30.—Young Stanley Horne, Ottawa, Hunt Club, strode past faltering Willie Lamb on the Catawag layout yesterday and wrested the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship from the Toronto pro.

Horne carded a total of 294 for the seventy-two holes of medal play, and beat Lamb by four strokes. Tied with the defending champion in second place was Dick Borthwick, Toronto.

Horne, twenty-four-year-old son of Albert Horne, greens keeper of Look-out Point, Ont., put together a pair of 72's for 144 to add to the 150 he scored Monday.

OAKLAND IN INITIAL WIN

Defeat Portland 2 to 1 to Stay in Running For Coast Ball Title

Oakland, Calif., Sept. 30.—Heartened by their first triumph, Oakland's aces, take on Portland tonight in the fifth game of their series to determine the Coast League champion this year.

The Oaks won last night, 2 to 1, behind the steady pitching of Jack Larocca, their speedball right-hander.

The series now stands three games to one, the Beavers having won all the contests in Portland.

George Caster, Portland strikeout artist, allowed only five hits last night, but four were bunched in the third inning for all of Oakland's runs. Jack Glynn's bounding single, with two out and the bases clogged, provided the runs.

Larocca yielded a run in the fourth without the ball being hit out of the infield. Nino Bongiovanni got an infield single, advanced to third on an out and wild pitch, and scored on Bill Sweeney's infield out.

Short score: R H E
Portland 1 6 0
Oakland 2 5 0
Batteries—Caster and Brucker; Larocca and Herzhberger.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

BACKFIRE!

RICHARD JORDAN GATLING INVENTED THE WORLD'S FIRST MACHINE GUN IN AN ATTEMPT TO END WAR!

McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

9-30-36

BACKFIRE

With the horrors of war indelibly impressed in his memory by the sight of wounded soldiers returning from early battles of the Civil War, Richard Jordan Gatling became an ardent pacifist.

In search of a plan whereby he might bring an end to all wars, Gatling was struck with the idea of making war so horrible that nations would outlaw it. The result was his invention of the world's first machine gun, the Gatling gun.

In 1865 the weapon was adopted by the United States Army and since then it has been used in the death-dealing machine gun modern warfare knows today.

Strange as it seems, the world's most destructive explosives were invented by another pacifist, Alfred B. Nobel. Laboring under the same supposition as Gatling, Nobel, a Swedish chemist, devoted much of his life to the creation of complex explosives that would assure peace among nations by their destructive powers.

The "Nobel Peace Prize," a sum of money awarded annually to the person or persons doing the most toward creating international peace, was left by Nobel from the huge fortune he amassed from the invention of explosives.

DEATH PENALTY
San Blas Indians, although in contact with Europeans since the sixteenth century, remain one of the purest races in the world. Through the centuries they have gone to great ends to maintain their racial purity and even today doom to death any woman who leaves her homeland in the northeast of Panama for fear of racial contamination.

WATER LEVELS

Capillary action, the strange physical phenomenon that seemingly causes water to violate its law of seeking its own level, is responsible for the heights of water inside tubes of different diameters. The law which determines the height is that capillary ascent or depression is inversely proportional to the diameter of the tube.

Tomorrow: Raven vs. White Owl.

Dizzy, Pepper Have Their Fun

Oklahoma City, Sept. 30.—Daisy McQuilliams moaned when the soft Dizzy Dean and Pepper Martin, baseball stars, approaching. Miss McQuilliams operates a baseball prize concession at the state fair here.

She sadly stacked prize after prize in front of the two sharpshooters as they moved down the stacks of imitation milk bottles. But the St. Louis Cardinals' ace had had their fun and they turned all their winnings back to Miss McQuilliams as a crowd of fans cheered.

ANDERSON TO MEET FRALEY

Smart Grapplers Will Meet at Tillicum Gymnasium Saturday

Probably two of the cleverest matmen who ever matched grips in the local squared ring, Leo Numa Anderson, Seattle, and Pat Fraley, Chicago, will climb through the ropes for a return appearance here Saturday evening, in the main attraction on Promoter Fred Richardson's mat card at the Tillicum gym.

Richardson is now working on arranging for another pair of good tussles in addition to a local opener. This pair appeared here last season for the first time, and staged a clean and fast bout. They put terrific pressure on their holds and break at the command of the referee like two well-trained hognes. Both are powerful, weighing close to 220 pounds.

Canadian Gridders Go After Imports

Interprovincial Union Bars Several United States Players; Montreal Indians Lose Ferraro, Olson and Ryan

Montreal, Sept. 30.—Torn apart by a committee-room decision, Montreal Indians loom as the big question mark of the interprovincial football union this season. The question extends even to the probability Indians will not play at all this year.

Decision of the union committee yesterday barring Coach Johnny Ferraro, Ole Olson and Pat Ryan threw such a bombshell into the Indian camp that club executives today were considering withdrawing Indians from the union. But withdrawal was considered unlikely and Ferraro is still coach.

The shake-up leaves big Abe Eliowitz, only remaining U.S. "import" on the team, as the head of a half-line that includes little Larry Mathieu, a brilliant broken-field runner, the plunging and place-kicking Tommy Burns, Harry Dittosky, Johnny Bennett and Ray Mullins.

ELIOWITZ BIG MAN
Eliowitz, Ottawa's triple-threat of three seasons, will do the kicking, passing and much of the play-calling. Mathieu will line up with him, probably at quarterback, with Burns at flying wing. Dittosky and Bennett are carry overs from last year's club. Mullins played intermediate last season.

Fete Jacques, George Pigeon, all-Canadian inside, and Fred Wigle are the bulwarks of the Ferraro front flank. Wigle, last season's snap with McGill University of the Intercollegiate Union, has lent experience and much ability to the centre position and there, and also the middle and inside berth, have been filled to the coach's temporary satisfaction.

To team with Pigeon as a first-string inside, Ferraro has Stan Perry, Bill Davies and Glen Brown, all capable but not outstanding. Murray Hyslop or the veteran Bert Adams will get the call for the other middle berth.

Ferraro's tackling brigade on the outside jobs, where slight weakness has been noted, includes Len Hutton, Ken Murray and Eddie Quigg. Hutton is the only known quantity. Murray missing last season because of a knee injury and Quigg being out of training with injuries.

Bowling Scores

Opening of the Senior Tenpin League at the Olympic Alloys last night was featured by the sensational bowling of Ron Wilson for The Times team. Wilson just missed a perfect game by rolling 290. He got a spare in the first frame and struck out. His three-game total was 705.

The Times won two games from Watson's Men's Wear. In the other game Strath's captured a couple from the Olympians.

MANY ATTEND BOXLA DINNER

Native Sons of B.C. Stage Banquet For Lacrosse Players; Cups Presented

Veterans of the game and up-and-coming stickhandlers, to the number of about 150, turned out yesterday evening at a banquet staged in honor of Oaklands and Lampton Street lacrosse teams, under the auspices of the Victoria Post of the Native Sons of British Columbia, in the K. of P. Hall, Broad Street.

Winners of the Victoria Schools Lacrosse League, Oaklands, were presented with the Gyro Cup, symbolic of the league championship, as well as silver medals. Bronze medals were given the Lampton Street players, who finished second.

"Preach lacrosse" was the appeal issued by Harry B. Sargison, who acted as chairman, and was chief speaker for the evening. He expressed to the gathering of enthusiasts that boys, young men and veterans would join the ranks today if they had a place to play. He told of the manner in which this game has progressed from a gladiatorial duel like those seen in Rome in the days of Caesar to a game of real sportsmanship, which has set a new respect for the game in the minds of many sportsmen.

"The struggle of acquiring funds and support for the movement to restore lacrosse to its former lofty position in local sporting circles, is the problem facing those interested in re-establishing this game," Harry Sargison said.

He believed that if a lacrosse organization was formed here next spring, provision should be arranged for the clubs to participate in a share of the profits of all matches. Mr. Sargison also urged a fund be set aside for injured players.

Expressing the fact that there was no game half as good as lacrosse for developing young men for the game of life, Everett Taylor, vice-president of the Gyro Club, made the presentation of the club trophy to Charles Thomas, captain of the Oaklands team.

Prof. E. S. Parr of the Victoria College faculty, who played lacrosse in eastern Canada some years ago, said that battles of peace, as well as war, were won on the playing fields, when he presented the silver emblems to the Oaklands team.

The awarding of bronze buttons to Lampton Street School was made by Trustee W. C. Moreby, K.C. Gordon Cooper, captain, expressed the thanks of his teammates. Interesting yarns on lacrosse in the early days, as it was played in Victoria, Vancouver and Westminster were told by Mr. Moreby.

Several other veterans of the game spoke on their experiences. Hearty thanks to the Native Sons and the Gyro Club for the keen interest taken in the boys were expressed by Robert McInnes and Hugh Creelman, principals of Oaklands and Lampton Street schools, respectively.

A feature on the evening's programme was the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" by the veterans present, who rose in a body to sing the old tune of friendship on behalf of the youngsters. Towards the close of the evening the youngsters repaid the gesture in a surprise move and sang the song for the benefit of the old-timers.

Hitler Not Yet Ready For War

Canadian Press

Detroit, Sept. 30.—It will be eighteen months or two years before Hitler is ready for war, in the opinion of Sir Walter Citrine, president of the International Federation of Trade Unions and secretary of the British Trades Union Congress.

Sir Walter, here to visit leaders of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday said Hitler—and for that matter, Mussolini—lacks certain essentials, without which he could not successfully hope to engage in war. Finances are one of the main difficulties, but raw materials such as rubber and fuels are other important considerations.

Sir Walter added there was a large body in England which felt it had been a mistake, after the Great War, to deprive Germany of all her sources of raw material. Britain, he said, was willing to go a considerable distance to preserve peace, but it was possible Hitler was "knocking at a door that won't open much farther."

Province Deals With Boundary Troubles

New Co-ordination Plan For Land, Mining and County Districts Expected to Save Thousands Of Dollars; Now Before Government

In a move to simplify and eliminate some of the "red tape" which often confuses and baffles those who have business dealings with officialdom, the provincial government now has before it for consideration a scheme for redefinition of boundaries within British Columbia.

Involving several years of work by the survey branch, co-ordinating with several other government departments, the new definitions cover land recording, land registration, mining recording and land assessment districts and counties.

Its main purpose is to wipe out irregularities in boundaries, confusion of administration and an excess of governmental work arising from the development of the province in the last sixty years. In some cases districts or counties have like "Topsy" just grown; and have resulted in peculiar quirks where an administrator in one district has to deal with matters which are miles away from him in what would, naturally, be entirely another region.

Under the new system, which it is proposed should be used as the basis for the next set of provincial maps, district boundaries are defined as near as possible to conform with the economic areas and watersheds of the country instead of following meridians or survey lines. The political divisions are not touched. Besides removing a lot of confusion it is estimated the new boundaries will actually mean a saving of thousands of dollars a year in extra work that is now required because of freak situations.

Forestry Experts Complete Survey

After a two-week survey of logging and conservation methods in Washington and Oregon, E. C. Manning, chief forester of British Columbia, and D. B. Taylor, forest protection expert of his department, returned to Victoria today.

Mr. Manning is preparing a full report of his investigations for Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands. This may be the basis for a new forest conservation policy in the province.

MORE HOMES ARE ROBBED

Jewelry Reported Stolen From Two Local Dwellings

Two more Victoria homes were victimized yesterday evening by daring thieves who recently have been prowling business houses and private dwellings, according to city police reports.

While a party was in progress at the home of Mrs. A. A. Calwell, 920 Wilmer Street, yesterday evening, a thief entered the front bedroom window and stole Mrs. Calwell's gold wedding ring. Mrs. Dorothy Keist, a guest for the evening, also lost a diamond earring.

The loss of a gold watch and chain and a gold ring were reported from his home at 1119 Johnson Street, by George Roberts.

City police today made plans to intensify their night-patrols in an effort to catch the thieves who appear to be growing bolder in their robberies.

FAIR SITE TO BE AIRPORT

San Francisco's Reclaimed Exposition Area Designed As Great Air Base

Site of San Francisco's great 1939 world's exposition on Yerba Buena Island, at the entrance of the Golden Gate, will eventually be converted into an airport and some of the fair buildings will be used as administration offices and hangars.

It will be one of the finest air plants on the Pacific Coast. Something of what is being done by foresight in San Francisco was told by J. C. Bunyan, manager of the Commercial Union Corporation at the Golden Gate city, who is holidaying with Mrs. Bunyan at the Empress Hotel.

When Yerba Buena Island, more commonly called Goat Island, is reclaimed it will be 450 acres in extent, the retaining walls of which are now practically complete, Mr. Bunyan states.

This vast reclaimed area will be the home of San Francisco's fair in 1939, which is expected to attract 20,000,000 people to the Pacific Coast. San Francisco's 1915 fair attracted 15,000,000 people, and it is hoped to double the figure at the forthcoming show, the insurance executive said.

The United States Government is putting $6,500,000 into the site with the intention of utilizing it as a commercial air base with fields for the transcontinental and coast services and water berths for seaplanes and clippers.

Some of the fair buildings will be specially designed, it is understood, so they can be converted to permanent airfield buildings.

AUTO LOSSES RISE SHARPLY

Ratio in Car Insurance Increases From 59 to 70 Per Cent in B.C.

An increase in automobile insurance rates would not be surprising because of the large increase in losses, says H. G. Garrett, B.C. superintendent of Insurance, in his annual report made public today.

Losses incurred last year were $1,051,606 against premiums earned of $1,484,773. This compares with losses of $855,254, against premiums of $1,449,042 the previous year.

"The experience in automobile insurance was again deplorable and the ratio jumped from 59 per cent (highest since 1930) to over 70 per cent. The amount of premiums was larger, but the losses incurred showed a tremendous increase, mainly due to claims under the headings of public liability and passenger hazard," Mr. Garrett says.

"It will not be surprising if rates also increase. Suggestions in various quarters have been made for compulsory insurance, but, whatever the ideas which prompt them, there is nothing in the history of compulsory insurance which goes to prove that it secures any reduction in accidents and losses, but definitely to the contrary."

"The comparative figures for 1935 and 1936 show increases in the number of licenses, the number of persons killed, and the number of accidents causing public liability and property damage loss."

Gen. A. D. McRae Visitor Today

Major-General Alexander D. McRae, C.B., of Vancouver, former Conservative organizer, and who is credited with putting the Bennett government into power in the election of 1930, arrived in Victoria by the night boat from Vancouver and is staying at the Empress Hotel.

The General is accompanied by Mrs. McRae and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Crawford of Toronto.

Mr. Crawford knows Ned Sparks, the lugubrious-visaged Hollywood comedian who hails from Ontario and who spent several weeks in Victoria during the summer.

He inquired about Sparks and was disappointed in failing to again meet the comedian, who left Victoria several weeks ago for Hollywood.

Robert Watson was sentenced to twenty days at hard labor by Magistrate Henry Hall in City Police Court this morning when he was found guilty to being intoxicated on Johnson Street yesterday afternoon. Two previous convictions were read against him. John McLean was fined $25 with the alternative of ten days imprisonment on the same charge. Charges against both of stealing a clock, the property of Morris Jubb, were dismissed for lack of evidence.

My Boyhood Ambition
A Cape Mounted Policeman

"My one ambition as a boy was to become a member of the Cape Mounted Police in South Africa. Letters from my cousin who joined that force enclosing pictures of him mounted on a horse and telling of the wonderful climate gave rise to the ambition," says Reginald Pembroke, manager of R. C. Pembroke and Company.

"I earned my first dollar as an office boy in a surveyor of taxes office, in England but at nineteen years of age, after my mother had refused permission for me to go to the Boer War, I borrowed some money from a sister and went out to Africa on my own. There I joined the Cape police but some time after the war I got homesick and purchased my discharge."

"I went back to England, then to Canada I have worked as a salesman, meter-reader, a farm laborer, a pupil teacher and a street-car conductor. An insurance company manager in Winnipeg, after I had sold him some carpets at Timothy Eaton's store, told me I was a salesman and lured me into his company. The first two weeks I cursed him. After that it was plain sailing. Except for war service I have been at it ever since."

"I like the insurance business, but if I had my time over again I would stick to my boyhood ambition, join the Cape Mounted Police and not buy my discharge next time. It is a great life, great country, finest climate in the world. Don't know why I ever quit it."

The picture of Mr. Pembroke is from a family group when he was a boy in England.

More Sunshine In September

Rainfall Less as Victoria Enjoys Splendid Summer-like Month of Autumn

September was a month featured by glorious summer-like days of golden sunshine, when there were twenty-four hours more sunshine than average, and less rainfall, according to the monthly weather report issued this morning by W. A. Thorn, superintendent at the Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill.

There have been some very warm days the last week, but they have not come near a record for warmth in September. On September 28, 1918, the temperature rose to 82.8 degrees, which was the all-time record. On September 29 last, the temperature was 77.3 degrees.

This month the warmest day was 73.4 degrees on Monday. The average temperature for the month was 55 degrees, which was two degrees below the average. The maximum was 78.4 on Monday, and the minimum 42.5 on September 15, with the minimum of 34.2 the following morning.

Sunshine totaled 320 hours, which was twenty-four hours above the average. Even the leaves seem to think it is still summer. Gardeners have noted that fewer than usual have fallen to date. In the country, however, the trees are turning brown, and the creepers over Victoria's public buildings are a deep and gorgeous red.

The goldenrod has passed its fullest glory now, and amateur gardeners are preparing for the winter months and putting in their daffodil and tulip bulbs for the spring.

Rainfall in September amounted to 1.39 inches, which was 1.4 of an inch below average. For the first nine months of this year there has been a total precipitation of 18.75 inches, which is 2.38 inches above the average. Unless the remaining three months are exceptionally wet, there is every indication Victoria may not go far above its average of twenty-seven inches for the twelve-month period.

Six-and-a-half-ounce Dual Egg Is Laid By Rhode Island Red Hen Belonging To Mrs. A. M. Temple

Something new in the way of eggs—one inside another—was brought to The Times office today by Mrs. A. M. Temple, 1743 Sixth Street. The freak weighs 6½ ounces and takes the form of one perfectly normal egg, complete with shell, surrounded by the white and yolk of another, the whole being covered with a thick membrane sufficiently transparent for the whole contents to be visible. It is larger than a goose egg.

The egg was laid by a hen of a special Rhode Island Red strain. These hens have given 250 eggs a year apiece and on occasion have laid more than one egg a day.

The blood-and-thunder thriller writer was dictating to his secretary.

"He crept stealthily across the shop-floor and paused. Resting one hand on the counter, he listened intently. All was as still as the grave, you could have heard a cough-drop."

His secretary hesitated. "Is that right?" she asked. "Don't you mean 'heard a pin drop'?"

"No," wrote "cough-drops," replied the author. "This burglary is in a chemist's shop."

AIR PIONEER VISITS CITY

Wing-Commander W. H. Dolphin Has Had Distinguished Career

One of Great Britain's pioneer aviation pilots, Wing-Commander W. H. Dolphin, who recently retired from the Royal Air Force in an interesting visitor to Victoria in the course of a holiday tour of the world.

Commander Dolphin is visiting this continent for the first time after a life spent mostly on service in the Far East, India, Afghanistan, Mesopotamia or Iraq as it is now known, Arabia, Egypt, Palestine, Turkey and Malta, each in turn having been the scene of his activities during the last thirty years.

It was in 1910, while on leave from India, that Commander Dolphin made his first flight with Claude Grahame White, flying in what he describes as "a sort of flying birdcage." He decided to master the art of flying and in May, 1911, was granted his pilot's certificate by the Royal Aero Club of Great Britain, his certificate being number 82. He associated himself with the well known pioneer of aviation, Gordon England, and the late Col. James Valentine during the early part of 1911 and had many interesting experiences with them, both in England and in France.

But it was not until he was seconded for service with the Royal Air Force that he was able to make use of his knowledge of aircraft and skill as a pilot. On the formation of the R.A.F. he was gazetted to a permanent commission and has been largely concerned with the technical development of that service, although he continued active flying until shortly before his retirement last January.

Among the many interesting personalities he was associated with during his R.A.F. service was Air Commodore Raymond Colishaw, the former Nanaimo boy who after a distinguished career during the war is now one of the outstanding figures in the air force in Great Britain.

Commander Dolphin has had a career of great interest which, although arduous at times, has been full of excitement and adventure. He numbers among his many experiences life in the palaces of various Oriental rulers, expeditions against tribesmen of the Northwest Frontier, and of Kurdistan, and epic flights over inaccessible mountain country where a forced landing, generally meant instant destruction, as well as tiger shoots in Bengal and big game hunting in many other parts by way of diversion.

Twice mentioned in dispatches, Commander Dolphin has, in addition to the 1914-18 war medals, the Indian Northwest Frontier medal with three clasps and the Egyptian Order of the Nile, presented to him personally by the late King Fuad of Egypt at an investiture at the Abdin Palace in Alexandria in 1922.

To a Times reporter he expressed his admiration for the grandeur of the Rockies and the beauty of Vancouver Island. He was also eloquent on the subject of the efficiency and splendid service and comfort of the trans-Canadian railway system.

While here, he is enjoying the excellent golf facilities and plans to spend several months on the island.

Her Daddy calls home when out of town

No wonder this little girl is happy. When her father is away, he keeps in touch with home by long-distance telephone, and, of course, on such occasions, he talks with her.

"I'm not nearly so lonesome for Daddy when I know that he's going to call us by telephone," she says.

Daddy, too, is less lonesome—and less worried. Hearing the voices of his loved ones, he is assured that all's well at home.

"When I can't be with my family," says he, "the next best thing is to talk with them by long-distance telephone."

WATERFRONT MAN IS DEAD

George Deal, Sea Rover and Resident Here Some Years, Dies in Port Alberni

Special to The Times

Port Alberni, Sept. 30.—George Deal, well-known longshoreman of this city was found dead in his cabin yesterday evening following a long spell of ill-health.

Born in Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, sixty-one years ago, the late Mr. Deal followed the sea in various capacities for many years. He served on sailing ships and also on sealing ships out of Victoria.

For some years he lived in Japan and then went to Victoria, where he was employed by the Pacific Salvage Company for some years.

Later he went to the west coast of Vancouver Island, and was engaged in the fishing industry. In 1924 he came to Port Alberni and had lived here ever since. No relatives are known.

COUNSEL GO TO OTTAWA

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Stuart Henderson of Victoria, counsel for Richardson, Eneas and Alex George, whose appeal from the death sentence is scheduled to open before the Supreme Court of Canada October 4, left here yesterday evening by plane for Ottawa. Henry Castillon, assistant defence counsel, left for Ottawa today.

Gordon Sloan, K.C., Attorney-General of British Columbia, will appear for the crown, with J. R. Nicholson. Mr. Henderson has participated in every one of the various trials and appeals of the three Indian brothers since their arrest May 23, 1934, charged with murdering Dominick Constable, P. H. Gibboun and the Canford Indian, Reserve near Merritt, B.C.

The George brothers are now under sentence to be hanged November 3 at the Okalla jail.

Sir John Ellerman Left Huge Estate

London, Sept. 30.—New valuation of the estate of Sir John Ellerman, who died in 1933, makes him the richest man Great Britain ever produced.

The estate of Sir John, a shipowner and financier, now is valued at £36,685,000 ($187,425,000), exclusive of his property abroad. Also additional property must be brought into account before the estate can finally be liquidated.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer may therefore receive £20,000,000 ($100,000,000) in death duties and legacy duties. About £14,000,000 already has been paid.

It is generally considered that Ellerman was much richer before the world slump which hit Britain in 1931.

No Early Reich Currency Change

Associated Press

Berlin, Sept. 30.—Germany will stand pat on her present policy, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Reich Minister of Economics and head of the Reichsbank, told the bank's board of directors today.

Dr. Schacht said:

"We have come to the decision that we shall not add to the uncertainty of international trade—already increased by devaluation measures abroad—by ourselves injecting an element of uncertainty."

Dr. Schacht did not say flatly and specifically Germany has no intention of devaluing the mark.

"The Reich government will always be ready to participate in purposeful international negotiations," he said.

Associated Press

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—A threatened tie-up of coast shipping tonight upon expiration of working agreements found employers and unions representing 37,000 workers deadlocked today over new contracts, a proposed truce, and even the question of whether the agreements end at midnight.

Conferences with Assistant Labor Secretary Edward McGraw extending through yesterday and last night, brought alternate proposals to extend negotiations but no action toward permanent settlement of many-sided issues.

In Seattle Mayor John F. Dore told a mass meeting of citizens that, if the shipowners refuse to extend present agreements pending government mediation efforts, "there should be an uprising of all people—except capitalists—to demand that President Roosevelt take over the shipping industry."

The number of ships scheduled to leave San Francisco today dropped sharply in the face of the threatened tie-up, and in San Pedro shippers sought to clear as many vessels as possible before midnight.

A request of the newly formed U.S. Maritime Commission in Washington to extend present agreements, said by the body, brought a reiteration by maritime unions that they were willing to continue work for fifteen to thirty days.

Employers countered they were "loath" to grant any extension unless the unions would agree to submit all disputed questions to arbitration and stop asserted violation of present agreement, awarded after the 1934 strike which paralyzed coast shipping for eighty-three days.

M. C. Sloan, federal arbiter under the 1934 longshoremen's award, said he would rule today on a question the longshoremen raised over expiration of contracts tonight.

The longshoremen contended employers had not formally discarded the 1934 agreements because they had agreed for modification and not replacement.

The shipowners declared their notice of desire to modify the awards was tantamount to a notice of intention to end present agreements.

San Pedro, Calif., Sept. 30.—Dollar Line officials assumed today efforts to sign a crew for the trans-Pacific flagship President Coolidge, despite failure yesterday of a long conference with union representatives.

The liner is scheduled to sail at noon for Manila and the Orient.

Seattle, Sept. 30.—Maritime workers today had a promise of police protection by Mayor John F. Dore if they were locked out of their hiring halls.

Speaking at a mass meeting called yesterday by the Washington district council of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, Mayor Dore said "You go down to the hiring halls, and if they lock you out Thursday, we will send down plenty of policemen to protect you."

He said the people should rise up to demand President Roosevelt take over the shipping industry if the shipowners refuse to agree to a truce.

Contracts with the workers expire at midnight tonight. Dore said the workers were willing to work at the same wages until the government could settle the controversy.

Canada Gets New Aircraft

London, Sept. 30.—The first complete fleet of British aircraft built for Canada was named Monday at North by Lady Sheldrake, wife of the director-general of Civil Aviation.

The five machines comprising the first units of the fleet, also are the first British airplanes specially designed as freighters. They were built by General Aircraft for eastern Canada Airlines, and are named after the five chief cities between which they will operate: Moncton, N.B., Halifax, Saint John, N.B., Sydney, N.S., and Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Gordon England, managing director of General Aircraft, said the fact that a new Canadian company had come to England to purchase a complete fleet would help to discredit the story which was being spread abroad by some whose interests it served, that the British aircraft industry was too busily engaged in military production to have time for civil machines.

A CORRESPONDENT ASKS: "In the case of an unequal marriage, which should be the superior one, the husband or the wife?" If you are considering only the happiness of a husband and a wife it is undoubtedly far better for the man to be the superior one. Perhaps this is the law of nature. When nature created man of greater size than woman and gave him greater strength it intended that his mate should look up to him.

At any rate, the most successful marriages are those in which this happens. When the situation is reversed and the husband has to kowtow to his mate it spells misery for all concerned. As long as a woman believes that she is married to the handsomest, the wisest and the most wonderful man in the world and begins every sentence with "John says," it is a guarantee of domestic felicity strong enough to draw money at the bank.

On the other hand, no households are more miserable than those in which a meek, henpecked husband writhes under the thumb of a dominant wife. For it is a peculiarity of the feminine temperament that even the most tyrannical and autocratic women have contempt for the men they rule. The only affection they ever feel for men is the pitying love of a mother for a weak child. You see many brilliant men contented with dull wives, but you never see a brilliant woman satisfied with a dumb husband.

There are many reasons why it is better for the man to be the superior one in marriage. One reason is, of course, the material idea that he is the one upon whom the family fortune depends; he is the one who must go out into the world and meet its competition; while from whatever good things the wife and children have, so it is more important that he be clever, strong, alert than that the wife, whose activities and opportunities are circumscribed by her duties as wife and mother, should be a go-getter.

Another reason why it is better that the husband should be the superior one in the family is because women glory in their husbands' superiority, whereas nothing gives the average husband such a pain in the neck as for his wife to excel him in any way. The only compliment that a man enjoys being paid to his wife is one concerning her looks or her clothes or her cooking or her character. A wife is proud of her husband's success. She glows over his achievements and asks nothing better than to be known as the wife of her husband, but there is nothing a man resents so much as being known as the husband of his wife. To call a man Mr. Mary Jones, no matter how famous Mary is, is to offer him a deadly insult.

Of course, there are exceptions to all rules and there are a few men who are proud of their wives' talents outside of the kitchen, but these are as scarce as hens' teeth. Few men can bear their wives' superiority and, generally speaking, it does not make for happiness in the home for the grey mare to be the better horse.

But when it comes to a consideration of the children it is far better for them to have a superior mother than a superior father, which is amply proven by the fact that great men seldom have great sons, whereas almost every great man had a great mother.

It is the mother who has the shaping of the children's characters in her hands. She is with her babies all the time and she has an influence over them that their father cannot possibly have. She forms their ideals. She teaches them the code they live by and die by. She makes them fighters or slackers.

No matter how fine a man is or how cultured or how ambitious he is for his children, he can do nothing if they have a common, dull, visionless mother who negates every effort to improve the children and drags them down to her own level. But the superior mother sees that her children have an education, though she works her fingers to the bone to give it to them. She fires their souls with ambition. She holds them up to the best that they can do, and she makes of her shoulders a ladder on which they climb to the places she has determined they shall occupy.

But the ideal marriage is not the one in which the husband looks down upon his wife and the wife looks up to her husband. It is the marriage of equals, and that is best for the man and the woman and the children.

Uncle Wiggily And the Lazy Robin

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Once upon a time there was a lazy robin. It was a pretty robin, those red-breasted birds you so often see for their little song.

The mother robin isn't lazy at all. She builds the nest, she lays the eggs and she hatches the little birds out of the eggs. The daddy robin helps to build the nest and when the daddy bird brings her a sandwich or a big salad, and when the little birds are hatched, Daddy Robin is for them he has hardly time to sing his cheer-up song.

The lazy robin I am going to tell you about was a little boy robin. He had been hatched late in spring out of an egg. He was one of a second crop of children. Children that Mr. and Mrs. Robin had.

At first this lazy robin, whose name was Archibald, had to be fed while in the nest with small pieces of worms dropped down his throat by his father or mother.

But at last came a day when Mr. Robin said to Archibald:

"It is time you left the nest and learned to fly."

"Oh, I can't," said Archibald, who then there stated to be lazy.

"Yes you can!" chirped Mr. Robin. "Take a fly around Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bunnel. If you fall down on the soft grass of his lawn he will pick you up."

Well, that's just what happened. Archibald started to fly, but he fluttered and fell several times. Each time Uncle Wiggily picked him up and put him in a place safe from cats.

Watching from his nest Mr. and Mrs. Robin would see what had happened to Archibald. They would fly to him and give him a push or a pull or a pat, where, perhaps, Uncle Wiggily had put him, and the lazy bird at last learned to fly very well.

"But I'm afraid, Uncle Wiggily," said Mrs. Robin to the robin gentleman one day when they were talking over family matters. "I'm very much for Archibald. He never goes to eat by himself."

"Hm-m-m," said Mr. Robin. "Why not?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"HE IS TOO LAZY!"

"He is too lazy," said the robin mother. "You see on your porch now and watch. My other little robins have learned to pick up worms and bugs for themselves. But just you watch Archibald!"

So Uncle Wiggily did. When Mr. and Mrs. Robin took their little brood for a skip around the lawn all of them, except the lazy robin, hunted for themselves in the grass, finding just what they needed, and of course, they couldn't play music.

But Archibald just flattered around after his mother, dropping his wings in a silly way and going:

"Choo! Choo! Choo!"

"No, it isn't," said Mr. Robin. "You go give the rabbit a while," he said to Archibald.

And what happened you shall hear in the next story. It is going to be called "Uncle Wiggily's Little Trick." And I do hope the leopard doesn't forget to wind the alarm clock so the coffee will get up under an aspect even more sinister than (Copyright, 1936, by H. E. Garis)

URGES WARDS TO GET READY

Dr. Tolmie Tells Conservatives of Activities in Other Parts

Victoria Conservatives were urged by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., last night to conduct an intensive campaign for support and to gird themselves for the next provincial election, which he thought might be soon.

He hoped to see Dr. Frank Patterson, the new provincial leader, become premier of the province before long.

The local member spoke of the party's activities in other parts of Canada. Premier Duplessis of Quebec was a Conservative and had achieved a wonderful victory in ousting the Liberals after thirty-nine years.

Hon. R. B. Bennett in the House of Commons and Hon. Arthur Meighen in the Senate were leading the elected forces with vigor, Dr. Tolmie said. In reference to the Senate's defeat of amendments to the B.N.A. Act he thought this was good for Canada because the change might have resulted in the breaking of Confederation.

He reviewed improving business in Canada, with mines production better, lumber exports greater, a good market for hogs, largely due to the trade treaties negotiated by Mr. Bennett.

Dr. Tolmie mentioned that he had, without success, endeavored to secure a federal grant for Victoria.

ISLAND NEEDS
B. A. McKelvie, managing editor of The Victoria Colonist, was the other speaker, dealing mainly with Vancouver Island conditions.

Back in 1864 Sir James Douglas had said Vancouver Island's future lay in a free port and a separate fiscal policy from the mainland. Within two years the island was annexed, however.

Its natural resources, such as whaling, furs, sea otters, sealing and halibut banks had since been depleted; the coal industry was at a low ebb and forests were rapidly disappearing. Millions of dollars from these had gone into the provincial treasury and little done to replace them.

If Vancouver Island were a separate province, he said, the revenue would be enough to carry on full government services, spend $1,000,000 a year on roads, pay off $1,000,000 of the public debt each year, reduce income and succession duties, give aid to municipal treasuries, reduce the amusement tax by half, lower all motor licenses to $10 and leave a balance of between $250,000 and $500,000.

At least $100,000,000 of the public debt of British Columbia represented political patronage and waste, he declared.
